City Can Buy Clear Title To Airpark for $9,440

By RAY BAINES

The city has been offered unrestricted title to the Gordon Head Airpark for $7,929.64 plus 3¼ per cent interest on that amount over a period of six years and three months.

The offer was made yesterday in a letter from Crown Assets Disposal Corporation at Ottawa following a city council decision in January to try to acquire clear title to the 57-acre property.

The city at present owns the property for which it paid $20,000 in 1946 but it can be used only as an airpark.

Here, briefly, is the history of the airpark:

In December, 1946, the city was told it could buy the property from the federal government with no restrictions for the sum of $27,929.64. It settled, instead, for $20,000 and accepted a condition that the area was to be used only as an airpark.

In 1948, Saanich ratepayers, after a bitter battle, voted down the rezoning of the property for airpark purposes. The city was stuck. It could not use the tract for the one purpose specified in the agreement with the government. It was, for example, unable to accept an offer from the B.C. Turf Association which wanted the property for horse racing.

The property then lay idle for nearly three years while various organizations from time to time came up with suggestions, none of which overcame the restrictions.

Interest was revived momentarily in June, 1951, when it was learned an offer of $18,000 had been made for the land on behalf of the Victoria Flying Club.

In July, 1951, however, city council decided to offer the property back to the federal government for the same price paid for it. The offer to re-purchase was accepted by Minister of Defense Production C. D. Howe in a letter to the city, January 1, of this year.

Later in January this year, however, city council reversed the 1951 decision and voted to try to acquire full possession of the property through the Crown Assets Corporation. The move was initiated by Ald. Brent Murdoch, chairman of the air traffic committee, who felt the city should not let the property slip through its fingers.

A letter was written to the Vancouver branch of the Crown Assets Corporation and yesterday's offer from Ottawa was the result.

PLUS INTEREST

The corporation letter, signed by vice-president-comptroller Louis Richard, asks that the city now pay the difference between the original $27,929 figure and the $20,000 actually paid, plus interest on that difference for the period from 1946 until now.

The 3¼ per cent interest over the six-year period would add about $1,540 to the $7,929 difference, making a total of approximately $9,440.

"The corporation considers that if the city wishes a clear title without any restrictions as to use, it should now be prepared to pay the original asking price of $27,929.64 plus interest at the rate of 3¼ per cent per annum from the date of the original agreement to the date of the payment of the balance thus due over the $20,000 already paid," the letter from Ottawa states.

SAME TERMS

The letter points out that the assets corporation is merely asking the same terms as if the city had agreed to pay the whole amount in 1946 at $20,000 down and the balance over six years.

"The corporation is simply requesting the city to make payment on terms which would have been satisfactory at the time of the original sale," Mr. Richard states.

If the city agrees to the new offer, there will be considerable speculation as to what use the 57 acres will be put to.

One official has already suggested that it might be an excellent site for a race track and fairgrounds.

Exhibition Grounds, Race Track Planned

Plans to try to secure the Gordon Head Airpark for use as an exhibition grounds and race track are definitely under way, it was learned last night.

K. R. Darbyshire, well-known horseman and president of the B.C. Branch of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, told The Colonist he was definitely interested. Mr. Darbyshire was recently elected president of the B.C. Agricultural Association.

He made the statement upon hearing of the offer by Crown Assets Disposal Corporation to give the city clear title to the 57-acre property.

"As a matter of fact," Mr. Darbyshire said, "we have already drawn up tentative draft plans for the area in the hope that we might negotiate with the city."

Mr. Darbyshire recalled that the former mayor of Victoria, Percy George, once said the land might make a fine home for the B.C. Agricultural Association.

It is understood that rezoning of the property would have to be approved by Saanich council if the city decided to accept the federal government offer and then sell the property for use as an exhibition grounds.

Saanich ratepayers in 1948 voted against a plan to rezone the property as an airpark.

"We wouldn't want to put a fair grounds in there if it was against the wishes of the Saanich people," Mr. Darbyshire said. "It is not our intention to antagonize anyone. But I see no reason why it would not make a fine site for the re-establishment of a fair here."

Because of the airpark restriction, the city was unable to act on a previous offer by the B.C. Turf Association who wanted the property for horse racing.

Mr. Darbyshire and representatives from the two organizations will probably approach the city in the near future.

Federal Cash Aid Only for Farmers

By The Canadian Press

Federal purse-strings will be opened for farmers whose herds must be slaughtered because of foot-and-mouth disease, but Ottawa officials said Wednesday they likely will not be opened for the hundreds of packing-plant employees threatened with unemployment because of widespread marketing disruptions.

Norman Riches, a union official, said at Calgary that by the middle of next week about 1,200 Western Canada meat packing plant employees will be out of a job. Workers have asked that the federal government provide the difference between actual wages lost and amount payable under the Unemployment Insurance Act.

But at Ottawa officials said it was not likely that the federal government would meet such demands. If it did, it would set a precedent for hundreds of other requests for financial aid.

Meanwhile, the Commons gave final approval to an emergency bill providing federal payments to farmers whose livestock, buildings, crops and equipment are destroyed in the drive to stamp out the South Saskatchewan disease. The bill now goes to the Senate.

As the three-day debate neared an end, Agriculture Minister Gardiner promised that the government will make every effort to sell either in the United Kingdom or elsewhere any meat surplus that develops in Canada because of the outbreak.

Adding to the general disruption, Nova Scotia joined Manitoba, British Columbia and Quebec in imposing restrictions on inter-provincial movement of livestock and meats.

Forces Close Huge Exercise

NAPLES, March 5 (AP).—Operation Grand Slam ended tonight with an open question mark whether the Atlantic Treaty powers could whip a strong enemy submarine force in the tight waters of the Mediterranean.

Air and surface control of the strategic inland sea, however, seemed assured after eight days of teamwork manoeuvres by U.S. Admiral Robert B. Carney's mighty British, Italian, French, and United States naval forces.

Carney himself, the Allied commander in Southern Europe, told reporters that in actual war "we would not expect to encounter enemy submarine forces with any better equipment or craft than we used in our own manoeuvres."

Twenty to 30 submarines, 200 warships, five aircraft carriers, 1,000 other vessels and perhaps 500 planes were used in the exercise. It was the biggest four-country naval operation ever tried in peacetime.

France Poor In Prosperity

PARIS, March 5 (AP).—France is producing more wealth today than ever before but her parliament balks at increasing taxes to defend it.

Nor can France seem to find a cabinet strong enough to impose controls on prices, credits and wages needed to curb inflation. The franc is worth about 12 per cent of its value at the 1944 liberation.

Business is good. Production last year was about 10 per cent higher than in 1929, the best pre-war year. Of the 42,730,000 men and women living in France only 33,000 were listed as unemployed on Jan. 1.

Yet the government is nearly out of funds. Every day this year it has spent about 1,000,000,000 francs ($2,800,000), more than the treasury has taken in.

Official Blessing Given Aluminum Negotiations

OTTAWA, March 5 (CP).—Production Minister Howe today gave his official blessings to Canadian-American negotiations covering increased supplies of aluminum for the United States and said he hopes the negotiations will be "consummated soon."

At Montreal, the Aluminum Company of Canada said the value of the long-range contract, if completed, would be about $700,000,000 at current market prices.

Mr. Howe said the agreement will allow the company to complete a part of the huge Kitimat project in British Columbia which otherwise would be left untouched. The first stage of the gigantic project likely will be completed next year at a cost of about $160,000,000.

Initial production at the new development may run about 83,000 tons a year, but when it is completed, output may be stepped up to about 550,000 tons annually.

Mr. Howe was commenting on a Washington dispatch reporting opened discussions with U.S. Aluminum producers to step up production at home and proposing to sign a seven-year agreement with Canadian producers. This would call for deliveries up to 250,000 tons of ingots from Canada annually.

Johnson Gives Power Rates

The B.C. Electric Co. and two MacMillan-Bloedel pulp mills draw more than two-thirds of all power generated by the huge John Hart power development at Campbell River.

This was disclosed in a return filed in the provincial legislature yesterday by Premier Byron Johnson in answer to questions of C.C.F. Leader Harold Winch.

Mr. Winch asked for rates charged by the B.C. Power Commission for power supplied under "special contracts." He said he wanted to find out if regular power consumers on Vancouver Island were subsidizing big industries.

The return showed that the John Hart development produced 213,332,000 kilowatts in the 10 months from April 1, 1951, to Jan. 31, 1952.

The B.C. Electric, and the Port Alberni and Harmac pulp mills of MacMillan-Bloedel used 67.4 per cent of this power. The rest was sold to power districts.

The cost of producing the power was $960,000. Special contracts paid 65.5 per cent of the cost.

The return showed that the Port Alberni mill pays 3¼ mills per kilowatt-hour. There are 10 mills in one cent.

The Harmac mill pays 3¼ mills per kilowatt, plus seven per cent per year of the power commission's investment in transmission lines, transformer, substation and equipment. Under a new contract which takes effect Sept. 15, 1953, Harmac will pay $2.25 a kilowatt-month.

The B.C. Electric Co. pays $2.23⅓ a kilowatt-month, with a minimum demand of 17,500 kilowatts. The minimum charge would be about $38,000.

The Elk Falls Co. Ltd. has signed a contract which takes effect in June. Their rate is $2.25 a kilowatt-month.

B.C. Power Commission's urban rates in Nanaimo, Duncan and the Albernis vary for residences with normal electrical appliances and those with an electric range and/or a water heater.

Home owners in the first category pay seven cents an hour for the first 40 kilowatt hours consumed; two cents a kilowatt hour for the next 120 hours, and one cent a kilowatt hour for the balance of power consumed.

A minimum monthly bill is $1.10, and a 10 per cent discount for prompt payment is allowed.

If range and/or heater are used the rates are seven cents an hour for the first 60 kilowatt hours; two cents for the next 180 hours, and one cent an hour for the balance. Discount privilege and a minimum bill of $1.65 are stipulated.

(Industries buy power in bulk at high voltage. Residential users' power must be "stepped down" to household voltage through a chainwork of transformer stations and block by block distribution lines.)

Bevan Splits Party

LONDON, March 5 (CP).—Aneurin Bevan, left-wing socialist leader, split the Labor Party wide open tonight and paved the way for an overwhelming 314-219 vote of confidence for Winston Churchill's handling of the rearmament program.

The bushy-browed Welsh rebel and upward of 50 of his leftist Labor followers in the House of Commons abstained from voting in protest against both Churchill's arms program and Clement Attlee's leadership of the Labor Party.

Churchill conceded in the day-long debate that the arms program is running a year behind the timetable. He blamed this on a lag in American aid, but said he pins his hopes for peace mostly on the United States' "rapidly growing stockpile" of atom bombs.

Victoria West Man Robbed by Gunmen

Holdup Believed Done By Pair Long-Sought

Two armed bandits held up and robbed a Victoria West grocer of $57 at 9 o'clock last night.

Police believe this to be the third "job" in recent weeks by the same pair of gun-wielding thugs.

Albert Smith, proprietor of the Victoria West Grocery, 1004½ Russell, had just closed his store and was counting the cash when the two men, one armed with a Luger pistol and the other with "a beat-up looking air rifle" walked in the front door and demanded the money.

The smaller of the two men, carrying the Luger, grabbed the cash from Smith, and preceded his accomplice through the front door and down Russell towards Victoria West School.

Smith immediately phoned the city police, and within minutes the district was alive with law officers.

Both bandits were wearing dark glasses and fit descriptions of the men who, one week ago almost to the hour, held up McGuire's Drugstore on Craigflower Road, getting away with a little more than $30.

Police believe that these same men might also have been the pair who robbed the Fountain Confectionery at Hillside and Douglas of $300 on Dec. 19, firing a shot at the proprietor in their escape.

Smith, last night's victim, was too shaken by the shock of the swift-moving crime to talk to reporters.

He told detectives last night that he thought he saw someone hanging around the store earlier but passed it off as shadows thrown by trees outside the store.

Early this morning, police were still conducting an intensive search for the elusive thieves.

Second Reading Given Margarine-Color Bill

Mrs. Tilly Rolston's bill to permit pre-coloring of margarine was given second reading approval in principle at the end of last night's session of the Legislature.

The bill, for which Mrs. Rolston has fought for years, passed second reading on division a stand-up-and-be-counted vote of 34-6.

A 40-minute debate cut across party lines, and saw Agriculture Minister Harry Bowman condemn a bill which his government, a few days before the session opened, had planned to bring in on its own.

Objectors to the bill were led by Alex Hope (P.C., Delta), who is a prominent Fraser Valley dairyman. Others were former trade and industry minister Leslie Eyres (P.C., Chilliwack), Glen Braden, Lib., Peace River), Angus MacLean (Lib., Cariboo), and R. C. Steele (Lib., Omineca).

Mr. Hope fought the bill on the grounds that coloring of margarine by the manufacturer would cut sales of butter. And butter production, he said, was the best way for the farmer to use up his surplus summer milk. And, he said, because of the inner workings of cows, there had to be surplus of milk in the summer if there was to be enough to go around in the winter.

Capt. D. J. Proudfoot (Lib., Victoria), said the color ban was a "stupid" business, and that precoloring wouldn't cut farmers' income because "they can't supply the demand for butter anyway."

Agriculture Minister Bowman charged "this obnoxious bill . . . is the most unfair proposition" put before the House in years.

Anscomb Finds Budget Rather Steep; Suggests Some Added Expenditures

By T. A. MYERS

The provincial government's $186,000,000 budget for 1952-53 is too high, Opposition Leader Herbert Anscomb told the provincial legislature yesterday.

The former finance minister made no suggestions for trimming the budget.

He suggested that the government give more money to its agriculture and trade and industry departments, and build a $14,000,000 rail line from Squamish to Vancouver.

Mr. Anscomb was the first speaker in what may be a 10-day debate on the budget presented Tuesday by Premier Byron Johnson.

He described himself as "the father of this budget" and said the budget was presented by its foster-parents.

"And with the natural exuberance of foster-parents," he said, "they were perhaps too generous with the child."

He said the government should expand its agriculture department with the aim of developing enough agricultural land to make B.C. self-supporting in food production.

Mr. Anscomb predicted that "our present boom in natural resources—lumber, minerals and things of that sort," may eventually collapse.

That would throw thousands of loggers, miners, fishermen and others out of work, he said, and an expanding agricultural program would be the best way to absorb them.

SAANICH IRRIGATION

In Saanich, where he owns a farm, he said, he had investigated the possibility of using Elk Lake water for irrigation, and had found "the water there would irrigate only a few thousand acres. But there are other sources of water up the Island which could be expanded and used for that purpose."

He urged irrigation plans also for "other areas of a similar nature."

The trade and industry department also should be expanded, he said.

"Unless the industrial life of the province . . . is increased consistently and more rapidly than the great social problems . . . we are headed for disaster," he warned.

Small industries need government help in research and development, he said.

The government should also be spending more money to develop the tourist business, he urged.

Mr. Anscomb devoted one-third of his speech to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the government-owned line which now runs from Squamish, on Howe Sound, to Quesnel, and which is being extended to Prince George.

He said he was disappointed in the premier's statement that the government would not complete a rail line from Vancouver to Squamish, but instead would build a $3,000,000 gravel road.

He said that necessary steel can be obtained from England, and that the government should borrow enough money to build the link, which is estimated to cost from $10,000,000 to $14,000,000.

Sterling Area Losing Gold

LONDON, March 5 (AP) A qualified informant said today the sterling area's gold and dollar reserves have slipped below $2,000,000,000 long regarded as the minimum safety level.

There is some concern that by June 30 these reserves the sterling area's capital for trade with the rest of the world may sink as low as $1,600,000,000.

This would be only $250,000,000 more than the crisis level reached just before devaluation of the pound in September, 1949. From that low point of $1,350,000,000 the reserves had climbed almost to $4,000,000,000.

Tax Returns Produced, Not Opened

VANCOUVER, March 5 (CP) —For the first time in a criminal case, federal income tax returns were produced in court here today at the trial of 26 persons on bookmaking conspiracy charges.

But a lengthy legal argument followed and their contents were not immediately disclosed.

Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker ruled that the tax returns may only be discussed as Crown evidence if a defendant's return mentions another of the accused and that reference is substantiated by the second man's return.

The jury was excluded while defense and Crown counsel argued admissibility of the returns.

Mr. Justice Whittaker accepted defense argument that the returns must apply to the alleged conspiracy before admission.

Auctioned Elk's Tooth Helps Buy New Chair

An old shotgun, some chocolate biscuits, pinball games and two budgie birds were included in the motley mound of 161 items that last night helped put the fund to buy crippled Victoria newsie Thomas Ward an electric wheelchair over the top.

The auction sale was part of Victoria Lodge, B.P.O.E. "Klondike Night" at which warm-hearted Elks had fun at several games of chance during the spirited bidding.

Club executives said they wouldn't know how much the games brought in until today, but said that the $1,500 objective needed to buy Mr. Ward a replacement for his decrepid, self-propelled chair may be topped.

Veteran auctioneer Gradwell Kilshaw had fun, too, quipping his way through the sale of such things as gazelle horns, fruitcakes, crocks which could be used for many purposes, lingerie, a scalp vibrator, and a genuine elk's tooth fob, a rare symbol of club membership.

Hard-working Elks labored for days before the sale, hauling donated articles to the Elks' Home, 732 Cormorant.

Some of the goods came from members, quite a few articles, such as new shirts, from generous merchants, and much of the balance from the hundreds of people to whom Thomas Ward gives a cheery greeting when they buy papers from him at the corner of Yates and Douglas every day.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

A Paris court handed down the judgment that no one has the right to sit in a front seat at the opera wearing black-and-white checked plus-fours.

According to a recent Reuters dispatch, Claude Coulon of Dijon sued the National Opera for 40,000 francs because, he said, his trip to Paris to attend the opera had been ruined.

M. Coulon said that when he took off his coat in the lobby, revealing his checkered knickers, the management firmly refused to let him in.

The judge dismissed M. Coulon's lawsuit and his checkered suit in one breath by pointing out that the ticket bore the printed words (also in black and white): "Persons incorrectly dressed not admitted."

* * *

To a person unfamiliar with the folk-ways of the Western world, the wearing of certain specified clothes as an aid to listening to music might seem an odd idea. Why, an intelligent native of New Guinea might ask, do the white men put on these strange garments, which they never wear at other times? Do they, perhaps, listen to the music through their coat-tails, or the seats of their trousers?

On the other hand, a native of New Guinea might understand the rule quite readily. He might see at once that the white men had their tribal customs, just as his people had.

Among his people, perhaps, it might be socially correct at tribal festivals of music and dance to wear nothing but a loin cloth and a snail shell behind the left ear. A native who appeared wearing evening dress cast off by a white man might well be drummed out of the tribe as a boor and a barbarian.

* * *

The Sophisticates or Metropolitans of the Western world, a powerful and influential tribe, observe some outlandish customs. Among these customs is the one we have mentioned—the wearing of funereal garb and sitting in stiff, silent rows to watch a number of people clad in the most colorful and unlikely things chanting and frisking about on a raised platform.

The people on the raised platform are the medicine men in the ritual called "opera."

Curiously enough, the people in the funereal garb, which they call "evening dress," are more concerned with being seen by others of their caste than they are with seeing and hearing what happens on the raised platform, or "stage."

* * *

Among the Provincials, the less important tribe to which we in Victoria belong, these rites have fallen somewhat into disuse.

The elders of the tribe still attend the ceremony known as "symphony concert," but their ranks have been diluted by the addition of a number of low-caste people who come to hear the music, and for no other reason.

Evening dress is now little worn, except by our tribal chieftains and high priests, and by women of all castes.

* * *

We nevertheless observe a good number of rules and taboos of dress. Men of our merchant caste, for example, must appear in white collars and ties, and pressed suits. Overalls are forbidden.

The caste of scribes, or "newspapermen," observes similar rules. Someone has slanderously asserted that we are slovenly in observing these rules. That's a lie. Right now I'm wearing the best suit made in 1923. Recently a hurried Victoria newspaperman was so anxious to observe the tribal rules that he came to work wearing not one, but two ties, one on top of the other.

Iron Ore Output Sets U.S. Record

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP).—Domestic production of iron ore set a record at 116,430,000 gross tons in 1951, the Bureau of Mines reported Tuesday. This was 19 per cent more than the 98,045,360 tons produced in 1950. Iron ore shipped also set a record at 116,570,000 gross tons, 19 per cent more than the 97,764,410 gross tons shipped in 1950.

Because of the earth's rotation, trade winds always blow from an easterly direction towards the equator.

Seasonal Colors For Oleo Urged

Coloring of margarine in shades to complement the seasons was suggested yesterday by a farmers' group.

A delegation from the advisory board to the B.C. Farmers' Institute yesterday presented 11 resolutions to the provincial legislature's standing committee on agriculture.

J. Woodburn, speaking to the margarine resolution, said dairy farmers have "no objection to the coloring of margarine" by the manufacturers.

"But," he said, "we certainly do object to any coloring that even remotely resembles butter."

He suggested alternative margarine colors: "a cool aquamarine for summer and a warm coral-pink for winter."

Mr. Woodburn said some members of the Legislature seem to consider the coloring of margarine "a matter of life and death." He said he had read harrowing newspaper stories about the agonies housewives go through mixing coloring matter into white margarine in their own kitchens.

"It only takes them five minutes," he said, "and they'd probably be a lot better for the exercise anyway."

Other resolutions covered resettlement of Doukhobors, daylight saving time, the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the agriculture department's budget, the Libby Dam, regional planning, rural electrification, tax sales and education taxes.

Possible resettlement of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect, now living in the Kootenays, alarmed the farmers.

One resolution urged that the Sons be kept at least 200 miles away from Kamloops, because of possible danger to three ammunition dumps, two transcontinental railways and a proposed oil pipeline which would pass through the city.

Mr. Woodburn suggested the government should "try and corral them where they are now." He said he would "hate to saddle them on any particular district," but that the people of the Kootenays were experienced in dealing with the Doukhobors.

Farmers' objections to daylight saving time were voiced by the delegation. They said farmers objected to getting up at "what is really three o'clock in the morning" to deliver milk and that haymakers are kept idle by dampness for an hour before they can get out in the fields.

P. A. Leeland, a Peace River delegate, demanded the extension of the P.G.E. north from Prince George to Dawson Creek and south from Squamish to North Vancouver. He said the Peace River section of B.C. is now "tied to Alberta and this is not as it should be."

"The southern part of B.C. should have the benefit of our products," he said. "Right now, with the foot and mouth disease situation as it is, we could help you a lot."

A. H. Peppar, Fraser Valley delegate, pressed for a bigger budget for the provincial department of agriculture. He said the department gets only .8 per cent of the provincial budget. In other provinces, he said, agriculture departments get from 2 to 5.8 per cent of provincial funds.

R. Sewell, representing Vancouver Island, called for more "democratic" administration of the regional planning division of the municipal affairs department.

He said the division "can and does change the status of the land without giving the people who own the land a chance to find out what's going on."

He said that under a regional planning district, "you become, in effect, a tenant on your own land. You have to run to them (the department) for a permit every time you want to nail a board on a fence."

Short Circuit Stalls New York Subway

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP).—More than 200 passengers were taken from three subway trains on the Manhattan Bridge across East River Tuesday night after a short circuit. The passengers sat in semi-darkness for up to 90 minutes before they were led over a trestle to waiting buses.

To Review Bid Question

The City Council executive committee will review the whole question of calling for tenders at its meeting Tuesday.

A new procedure by-law vetoed by Mayor Claude Harrison and later referred to the committee will be studied. Also up for review will be the question of calling for tenders for small items.

City manager Cecil Wyatt said yesterday he felt it was a waste of money to tender for a $75 purchase when the press advertising cost $30.

Fatal Fire May Be Due To Fire Bug

MONTREAL, March 5 (CP).—Two women died early today in a $250,000 fire that swept through a residential and business block at Guy and Sherbrooke Streets.

Several persons—the number variously placed from two to six—were still unreported early tonight but fire department officials said they believe all escaped and that no bodies are in [illegible]

The women victims, Mrs. George Perkins and Miss Marie Mahaffey, lived in apartments above the Montreal Repertory Theatre, the building in which the fire started.

The fire spread to the adjoining Grosvenor Apartments, and some 300 persons fled both buildings.

Six persons were injured but five were released from hospital during the day.

An explosion that shattered the theatre building soon after the fire started was believed by firemen to be a smoke blast.

The fire is believed to have started from an oil-furnace explosion or possibly from a cigarette butt.

Lieut. Detective Rene Daoust, chief of investigators attached to the fire commissioner's court, said he had heard rumors a fire bug was responsible for the blaze. There might be some substance to them, he said.

"Lately we've had trouble with a number of fire bugs," he said. "We have caught some of them but we know there are others."

In addition to the theatre property and equipment, the Montreal Repertory Theatre housed a valuable collection of old prints, etchings, theatre programs, other Canadiana and a theatre library.

Oddities

WINNIPEG, March 5 (CP).—Twelve former Glasgow "bobbies" saw a Winnipeg policeman in a buffalo coat yesterday and shuddered—they'll be wearing the same rig when they start pounding beats in Edmonton.

They said open season would be declared in Glasgow on anyone cruising the streets in such a coat.

All over six feet tall the policemen, and one shorter police woman, stopped here en route to Edmonton where they will join the city police.

The men were chosen from 90 applicants. Five are married and hope to bring their families to Canada. All hope to make Canada their permanent home.

LONDON, March 5 (CP).—Some thief got stung when he stole John Williams' watch last night but Williams probably feels it worse.

He left his coat with watch and chain in pocket in Hotel London basement washrooms. When he came back for it only the chain was left dangling from the pocket.

But it won't be much use to the thief, says Williams.

The watch is numbered in Braille.

Czechs Hint Trade: Oatis for Steel

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia has hinted it might consider releasing William N. Oatis, imprisoned American newspaper man, in return for a $17,000,000 steel mill.

But the state department, in acknowledging this today, said no actual offer has been made, and that "disposition of the steel mill is not and will not be connected with the Oatis case."

The Czechs bought the mill in the United States shortly after the Second World War, but have been prevented from taking delivery on it ever since the Communists came to power there.

Officials said Czechoslovakia raised the steel mill question on a number of occasions in such a way as to [illegible] Oatis.

Packing Houses Planning Layoffs

CALGARY, March 5 (CP).—A union official today estimated about 1,5[illegible] [illegible] packing employees in Western Canada will be out of work by the middle of next week.

The layoffs, already under way, result from curtailed livestock shipments arising from provincial bans aimed at preventing the spread of foot and mouth disease.

Norman Riches of Calgary, western director of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), said that a survey he made showed that by noon today layoffs or notices of layoffs had been received by 750 packinghouse workers in Winnipeg, 400 in the Edmonton area, 225 in Southern Saskatchewan and 150 in Calgary.

In British Columbia jobs of nearly 500 packinghouse workers were reported hanging in the balance.

Vancouver packers said workers face layoffs, possibly starting Thursday, if they cannot buy meat at reasonable prices at the two-day sale which opened today at Nicola in the Cariboo.

The packing plant in Prince Albert, Sask., still is operating with normal staff. Officials said no change was planned until they received more definite word on the Manitoba embargo.

Packing plant workers in many centres have agreed to work a 36-hour week instead of the present 40 and 42-hour weeks in an effort to cut layoffs to a minimum.

Logger Named As Assailant

VANCOUVER, March 5 (CP).—A magistrate had to step down to the floor of the police court today in order to hear a weeping 54-year-old man identify a logger as the assailant who crippled him for life.

Magistrate MacKenzie Matheson heard James V. Wark of New Westminster almost incoherently identify 34-year-old Franklin Charters during a three-hour preliminary hearing.

The magistrate committed Charters for trial in a higher court.

Wark was so badly beaten Dec. 6 in an east-end rooming house that he has been in hospital since then and will probably spend a number of years, if not the rest of his life, in other institutions.

Fares Chase Bus Riders

VANCOUVER, March 5 (CP).—The Public Utilities Commission was told today statistics indicate the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. Ltd. will suffer a drop of nearly 10 per cent in bus travel this year.

This information was given as the commission opened a public hearing into the company's application for a 13-cent fare. The present fare is 10 cents.

Dr. Harry Purdy, research director, estimated patronage would decline 2 per cent in Vancouver in line with the general postwar drop in the use of public transportation.

But a 7½ per cent shrinkage is expected as a result of increased fares, he added.

"U.S. experience shows you get a 3 per cent decline in riding for a 10 per cent fare increase," Dr. Purdy said.

On the basis of four tickets for 50 cents, the increase here would be 25 per cent.

The hearing is the first one under the chairmanship of Percy George, former mayor of Victoria.

Muskrats Perishing From Cold

WINNIPEG, March 5 (CP).—A struggle for survival is raging this month beneath the surface of Manitoba's lakes and ponds all because the snow didn't arrive.

Muskrats, who spend their winters in reed houses near lake shores, are being picked up dead, frozen out of homes built in the fall.

Stored food was frozen in the homes.

G. W. Malaher, director of the Game and Fisheries Branch, blames the muskrat's problems on the fact that he is a poor builder.

The little fur-bearer builds his home half in and half out of the water. In the upper storey he lays down a dry bed and sometimes adds a storeroom for food.

He counts on snow to provide his home with insulation from frost.

Queen Owns Huge Stamp Collection

LONDON, March 5 (Reuters).—Even as a small girl, one of Princess Elizabeth's favorite hobbies was stamp collecting. Stories are told of how she used to visit the secretarial offices in Buckingham Palace to collect stamps.

Today, as Queen, she owns one of the world's most valuable philatelic collections, a record of British and Commonwealth stamps. Some experts value it at more than £1,000,000. The Queen's grandfather, King George V, started the collection more than 50 years ago.

At stamp sales, friends of King George VI often bought unusual examples on his behalf. These the king mounted, writing underneath in a code the price he paid.

Walls of the Royal Stamp Room in Buckingham Palace are lined with nearly 300 albums bound in royal red morocco leather. Each has between 750 and 1,000 stamps—making a total of nearly 220,000.

A limited public—those with enough money—will be able to study the collection in detail in a few months when a book entitled "The Royal Philatelic Collection" is published in London. The cost will be about £57 a copy.

With the approval of King George VI, the keeper of the royal collection has been working on the volume for four years.

Because of the Queen's interest in stamp collecting, she is likely to take a personal interest in the design for the new stamps to be issued in Britain and the Commonwealth to mark the beginning of her reign.

But it will be some months, possibly a year, before the first new issue appears.

THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1952

Fifteen Millions More?

FROM the reported remarks of Mr. Herbert Anscomb in the legislature yesterday it is a little difficult to determine whether he was supporting or attacking "the largest budget in history." At one point the Member for Oak Bay is credited with saying that the outlay, at $185,750,000 gross, is too high; and, at another, with asking the administration to spend $14,000,000 on a rail link between Squamish and North Vancouver for the P.G.E.; more upon agriculture; and some other sums for irrigation in Saanich and elsewhere on a fairly extensive scale. It may be that Mr. Anscomb would pare the outlay to make way for this suggested addition of $15,000,000 or more, but he did not say where. In fact the former minister of finance said it was his budget, substantially.

In what fashion, also, is one meant to take the assertion that British Columbia's boom in natural resources could easily run out, along with the counter argument that this province should continuously expand its industrial output if it is to keep up with its growing social problems? Mr. Anscomb capped it all, however, when he pressed the government to get steel from the United Kingdom and go ahead with the $14,000,000 P.G.E. extension into North Vancouver, regardless.

Well, no one can have it both ways. It cannot be an extravagant budget and still short $15,000,000 of what is suggested as desirable. British Columbia governmentally cannot expand and contract at one and the same time. If $185,750,000 is far too much for British Columbia to spend in one year, and we believe that it certainly is, adding more items of expenditure would not reduce the load on the taxpayers.

When all pleading, special and otherwise, is over there is nothing in the present scene to warrant a gross outlay of $508,000 a day, every day, in the coming fiscal year—and this by a regime that has lost its mandate to govern. Instead of trying to square the circle, Mr. Anscomb might much more effectively have analysed the provincial debt, the $269,000,000 to which the province is already committed by over-exuberance in the past.

Income Tax Secrecy

BELIEVED to be without precedent in Canadian judicial history, Mr. Justice Whittaker's order for the production of the income tax returns of defendants in cases before the Supreme Court in Vancouver has caused concern in federal government circles, besides provoking comment all across the country. The assumption has always been that a man's return of income was strictly confidential and could not be used as evidence by the Crown.

Since his original order and the provincial government's reference of the issue to the Appeal Court, Mr. Justice Whittaker has ruled again that there must be compliance with the order for production, but that the returns must be submitted under seal. In the meantime, therefore, the incomes of the 26 persons involved will not be disclosed to the public. That temporary protection is only part of the matter, however. There remains the question of the court itself being placed in possession of these confidential documents in any circumstances whatever.

The section of the Dominion statute imposing secrecy on income tax returns states that no person "not legally entitled thereto" shall be permitted to inspect any written statement furnished under the provisions of the act. There is a lack of clear definition here. Presumably Mr. Justice Whittaker regards a court as a "person legally entitled," although it seems more likely that parliament's intention was that information should not be disclosed to anyone outside the department.

Apart from what it could do to the long-accepted principle that a man's income and the sources of it need be disclosed to no one but the tax authorities, Mr. Justice Whittaker's decision is reported to be causing concern in Ottawa for another reason. Hitherto Canadians have made their returns under a stated guarantee of secrecy and immunity from action by the Crown whether earnings were legal or not. This has been of great assistance to the Crown in collecting the tax, for even persons who would not have dared to expose their books to anyone else have done so confidently to the department. If that protection were removed the result in all probability would be an increase in tax evasion by persons for whom disclosures would be incriminating. Determination of the issue of secrecy is therefore of much importance to the federal government as well as to taxpayers.

The Great Delusion

THERE would be a chuckle in the voice of Mr. George I. Warren when that indefatigable booster of this city's charms told how he had inveigled Vancouver into aiding its greatest tourist competitor. The device was an innocent billboard slogan advising travelers to "Follow the Birds to Victoria"—but posted near the C.P.R.'s Vancouver wharf so as to hasten their departure from the mainland city.

Vancouver, he indicated, gnashed its teeth in frustration, but had to sit idly by while tourists flocked onto the steamers for Victoria. One can imagine no greater sense of satisfaction to a publicity bureau chief than a situation that forces one rival community to publicize another.

This slogan, it appears, and an apt one it is for its purpose, has titillated the travel instincts of the North American continent ever since it was coined—and carefully copyrighted—back in the early twenties. Tourists galore have come west to see these famous gulls and, follow on fascinated in their wake. All Victoria as a result, and not alone Mr. Warren, has plumed itself on this good fortune.

Yet if there is a god of irony he must be chuckling as well as Mr. Warren. For, of course, the slogan is a neo-myth akin to that of the local broadcaster who daily proclaims this city to be the "most beautiful" in Canada. The traveler does not follow the birds to Victoria. They follow him!

MATTERS EDUCATIONAL

Sir.—Two things have occurred recently in Duncan which, superficially appear unconnected but which are inter-related. A young logger, aged 19, confessed to the magistrate that he had squandered $4,000 of his wages. The second incident is found in certain criticisms made by a Duncan alderman against the present educational system with special reference to the relatively poor educational attainments of modern youth and their evident laziness.

The purpose of this letter is not to defend or to criticize our educational system, but merely to point out our very important aspect of life today that does affect adversely our educational efforts.

A generation ago it was customary for the mass of students to seek employment at the ages of 13 or 14. First there was the apprenticeship over a number of years during which the pay was purely nominal. Later, at age 18 or 19, the youth became an "improver" and received a higher but still nominal pay. Not for him the more than $4,000 at age 19 to do with as he liked. A highly-skilled workman might have earned such an amount in some five or six years.

We see, therefore, that in these present days of easy money, attractively high wages (bricklayers are going to ask for $3 per hour), fewer hours of work, "fringe" benefits, and paternalism in government there is less incentive to work hard. Do not let us be foolish enough to imagine that this tendency towards greater monetary rewards for less effort is lost upon children. Whether they spell as accurately as their parents is open to question, but they are keenly alive to what happens in the work-a-day world. If they see unskilled and semi-skilled workers paid far more than professional people, who shall blame them if their efforts are not always sustained?

As for the teacher, his work has become with the years, far more exacting. Today, wisely or unwisely, he has assumed responsibilities that belonged formerly to the home. In all the world of endeavours, there is no profession, trade or calling that is at once so arduous or so honorable. It is time to cease all rhetorical references to our young people being the nations greatest asset and then offer those who look after that assset a salary that compares unfavorably with what a 19-year-old logger earns.

I take it that the teacher's work is largely to produce in his students a sense of proportion, of fitness, of balance, of relative values, of appreciation of beauty, of goodness, of virtue and to do this in such a cock-eyed world as ours requires a miracle of patience. Since when did Duncan pay its teachers over generously?

TREES IN PARK

Sir.—A few days ago a local paper reported the cutting down of a large fir in Beacon Hill Park. It lost its life because it was said to be dangerous and this theory was bolstered by the statement that a few branches at the top were found to be dead. If those were grounds enough to take down fir trees none would be left standing as who has ever seen a sizable fir without some dead branches? You might as well say a man's head should be cut off because it sheds a few hairs, pretty often as soon as he comes to "maturity."

"J. Wise" brings a far graver charge against whoever it may be who ordered the execution of still more of the park's noble and stately firs. He states no less than 15 trees were cut down there, of which eight were Douglas fir. He goes on to say not one of these had reached maturity, which he proved by counting their rings.

I understand "J. Wise" has a deep knowledge of trees so his statement that the oldest of the slaughtered trees had 147 years to go before reaching maturity commands respect. Mr. Warren implies these trees had reached maturity and should rightly come down even though their trunks were, as he admits now, sound . . .'

Since writing this I learn the leading authority on southern Vancouver Island on the subject of forest trees has inspected the big trees recently cut down in Beacon Hill Park and has made the statement the firs "were good for at least another 100 years."

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

NO doubt it is disappointing to newcomers from Europe used to concert halls and associated amenities that in Victoria they have to go without. Of a truth our cultural habits here are barbarian by comparison, or so in effect we are often told.

I'm not sure, though, that these people help the cause they seek to promote by rebuking us too harshly or implying that we should hide our heads in shame. One presumes, too, that Victoria has some virtues not to be found where they came from, else they would not be here, or having arrived, would not long stay.

And I do wish, also that these critics would spread their displeasure around a bit and not aim it strictly at Victoria City, whose citizens seem to be expected to carry the load for all of the Greater Victoria area.

* * *

Few will deny the need of a civic auditorium or a civic centre embracing a concert hall and other rooms that would make it the hub of cultural endeavors. The lack has long been felt, and talked about.

Talking won't build one, however, nor rebukes.

It is true, of course, that right now no project of this kind that invited the use of civic moneys is likely to find much favor with the taxpayer. His experience with the Memorial Arena has made him shy of repetition.

The ironic aspect of the arena, to music and dramatic lovers at least, is that a civic centre was more needed than an ice stadium, and had the funds that built the arena been devoted to an auditorium—the town would probably now be enjoying both amenities. Private enterprise in the shape of some magnate in all likelihood would have provided a rink for ice hockey.

* * *

It was private enterprise, it is worth noting, this time in the shape of a public subscription initiated by sports lovers, that set the arena project in motion. Had the music lovers been as active as the sports lovers they might not now have any room for complaint.

Complaints in any case won't help to create a civic auditorium, and no benevolent millionaire seems to be handy who might come to the rescue. What then can be done?

Nothing, I'm afraid, unless all the musical, dramatic, artistic and other related groups get together and set the ball rolling.

* * *

If these pooled their determination, however, and since they comprise many imaginative individuals they should be able to draw on some fruitful ideas, they might be able to set the town afire, culturally speaking. But it needs a descent from the clouds into the prosaic field of selling their argument.

They might promote baby bonds, perhaps, or tag the senior governments for some sizeable aid, since these seem to have no compunction about spending money holus-bolus these days. Above all, they, the music, dramatic and art lovers, will have to pursue the project with unremitting zeal and unity. They will have to take their coats off and get to work.

No one else, it seems certain, will take the lead. But there should be enough people in the Greater Victoria area, surely, willing to give their backing to so worthwhile a venture.

Reports From Ottawa

NEXT to being defeated in an election, just about the worst fate which can befall a member of parliament is to have his constituency wiped out, or so gerrymandered as to pack it with supporters of his opponent.

Normally these dangers arise only once every 10 years, when the seats in the House of Commons are redistributed among the provinces on the basis of the new population figures disclosed by the decennial census.

Redistribution was postponed after the 1941 census, however, because of the war. It wasn't until 1947 that seats were redistributed on the basis of the 1941 population.

Now, five years later, parliament is approaching another redistribution, on the basis of the 1951 census. And opposition members of parliament, many of whom represent ridings bearing the scars of the last joust with the Commons redistribution committee, are wondering where the Liberals' next hatchet job will leave them.

* * *

In redistribution, the will of the majority prevails. Five years ago the Liberal majority wiped out old ridings, altered others and created new ones. The guiding principle seemed to be that redistribution should work to strengthen the Grits' grip on parliamentary power.

Thus when it was necessary to reduce the number of ridings in southern Ontario by one, the constituency of Muskoka-Ontario, represented by Progressive Conservative financial critic, J. M. MacDonnell, was amalgamated with the Liberal riding of Parry Sound. MacDonnell was defeated in the 1949 election, but the Liberals didn't succeed in getting rid of him permanently. He came back in a by-election to represent another riding, Toronto-Greenwood.

In Manitoba the riding of Neepawa, held by the then P.C. leader, John Bracken, was added to Portage La Prairie—also held by the P.C.'s. So Bracken ran in Brandon and lost. The ridings of Alistair Stewart (C.C.F., Winnipeg North), John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre, Sask.), and Davie Fulton (P.C., Kamloops, B.C.), were altered in an apparent effort to defeat these M.P.'s.

But the 1947 redistribution was a love feast compared with that the Tories ran in 1933. Then W. R. Motherwell, who had been Mackenzie King's minister of agriculture, angrily slashed an electoral map with his cane during a heated exchange in the committee. Threats were uttered, and invitations issued to "step outside". The committee narrowly missed ending in a donnybrook.

A fact little appreciated is that all the acrimony is not between M.P.'s of different political parties. Many a government M.P. has protested angrily when a cabinet minister in an adjoining riding sought to alter boundaries to make his own seat safer at the expense of his neighbor and political colleague.

The Commons' long record of gerrymandering for the advantage of the party in power caused Hon. C. G. Power, when he was pensions minister in 1939, to condemn redistribution methods in the strongest language. Many agree with him, including Prof. Norman Ward, who says in his book The Canadian House of Commons that redistribution debates "reveal the Commons at its worst".

If Power succeeds in persuading parliament to entrust redistribution to an independent commission, many of the evils of the past should disappear. But at this writing chances of his success look very slight.

Daytime Snoozing

(From The Windsor Star)

ANOTHER heart specialist, this time Dr. William A. Oille of Toronto, has spoken up in favor of daytime naps. A couple of 15-minute snoozes during the day, he said, plus a good night's sleep, are needed to counteract the pace that brings on heart failure.

This sounds like good, common sense, and doubtless it is. Anything as refreshing as a short mid-day sleep must be good for the sleeper. And come to think of it, many of those old-timers who proved so durable not only believed in day-time naps, but took them.

Still, when all this is conceded, where are we? Our workaday world, especially in the cities, isn't geared for the kind of relaxation Dr. Oille favors. Nor mentally adjusted for it.

A person found dozing in mid-morning or mid-afternoon hardly would escape the pranks of colleaques, even if he dodged the boss.

Yet this rest could be the answer to longer life expectancy, and therefore a goal to seek. Perhaps what the business world needs isn't a five-day week, but a five-and-a-half day stint, with time out daily for cat-naps.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

A woman in New York has been in the news for making a non-stop three-hour talk. What's so unusual in that? We have at least two of them on our party line.

* * *

University authorities complain that today's freshman can't spell. This has its compensations, however. One can always keep the conversation about the 17-year-old's head by spelling out the words.

* * *

The after-dinner speaker had talked for 20 minutes. "After partaking of such a meal," he continued, "I feel that if I had eaten another morsel I would be unable to talk."

From the far end of the table came an immediate order to a waiter: "Give him a sandwich."

QUIET, PLEASE

Popcorn bounced into the news recently when America's popcorn makers convened in Chicago. These gentlemen reported last year's retail sales totaled $250,000,000—a respectable figure you usually associate with purchase of jet planes or construction of new power dams. And, not to be outdone by other industries, the popcorn people even chose a "Miss Popcorn." But what about "Miss (or Mr.) Popcorn Eater?" If a contest of an international nature were held, Canada would contribute plenty of well-qualified entrants, as theatre-goers will testify. And perhaps, as a secondary contest, we might look for a "Miss Candy Wrapper Rustler of 1952."

—Canadian Business, Montreal.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

THE notion seems to be pretty general that the more people there are in the world, the less we will all have to work.

It is, of course, the other way round. In a small community, it is easy to see who is lazy, who is a shirker, who is a parasite. It is not easy to be a bum in a village. Public scorn keeps the number of them to a minimum. But there are usually three or four of them, even in a quite small hamlet.

In larger communities, the critical force of public opinion does not work so well. The larger the community, the greater the number of the lazy, the shirkers, the parasites and those who contrive to get by without performing a fair share of the world's daily work. A benign anonymity pervades a big city. You never know what your neighbors two doors away do for a living. The proportion of non-productive adults in cities who have to be carried as free passengers along with children and the aged and infirm must be very large. And the more people there are, the larger the proportion is likely to grow.

For everything in life during the past few years has stressed every aspect of life except work. Leisure has become a major concern of us all. Ease, comfort and security are now recognized as fundamental human rights. Our elementary educational system is designed to prepare children, from infancy, to get "the most" out of life. And at the universities, you can get a degree by studying music appreciation, interior decorating and similar aesthetic fields of human endeavor. It can hardly be denied that the number of free passengers in our society is being powerfully encouraged to increase.

And, despite a thousand marvels in the way of labor saving devices, those who do the world's work are working more frantically today than they were only a few years back. Naturally. Because each of them has several more free passengers to carry through life.

Red Lure

By J. W. BURKE, from Berlin

THE Russian-controlled German Democratic Republic has prepared a law which is meant to defeat the efforts of Western Germany to contribute to the defense of Europe against aggression.

This new law guarantees "right of refuge or asylum" to any young man in Western Germany who does not want to join the new German army in the framework of the Western defense. Russians hope to lure Western youths into Eastern Germany to avoid the draft. They promise them asylum and a job.

The law further guarantees to these youths that they will not be considered as traitors by the East if they remain in the West but sign up in a local Communist party headquarters, and declare themselves to be "friends" of peace and confess that they were "forced" into the Western army.

In 1950, when things were not going so well for the U.N. forces in Korea, the Russians caused a law to be passed in Eastern Germany which virtually listed all persons in Western Germany who "propagate an aggressive act, especially an aggressive war, who lure Germans into participation in warlike actions," as traitors to Germany, subject to full penalties as such. . . .

This 1950 law still stands in Eastern Germany, and, at the time it was passed, had great effect on Western Germans. Many business men and industrialists went out of their way to show friendliness toward the Communist party.

Large sums were spent for advertising space in Communist newspapers and periodicals. In case Russia attacked through Germany, they felt that this was insurance against their necks. The Russians made effective propaganda from this law and its results at the time.

Now they expect similar results from their new "right of refuge or asylum" law.

The attendant propaganda from the East assures the Western Germans that the intent of the law is not to frighten and terrorize, but to show understanding and sympathy and forgiveness for the unfortunate youth "hammered and pressed into a capitalistic army of aggression." It appeals to their desire for self-preservation, warns them not to be "caught and squashed" in the next great conflagration." It beckons them into the "peaceful East."

With the Classics

What Is Life?

And what is life? An hour-glass on the run,
A mist retreating from the morning sun,
A busy, bustling, still repeated dream;
It's length? A minute's pause, a moment's thought;
And happiness?—A bubble on the stream,
That in the act of seizing shrinks to nought.

What are vain hopes?—The puffing gale of morn,
That of its charms divests the dewy lawn,
And robs each flow'ret of its gem,—and dies,
A cobweb hiding disappointment's thorn,
Which stings more keenly through the thin disguise.

U.S. Pilots Watch Yehudi Down Mig in Korea

AT AN ADVANCE AIRBASE IN KOREA, March 5 (INS).—American sabrejet pilots have a new flier on their side and they call him "Yehudi."

Today, Yehudi accounted for one Russian-built Mig-15 and Air Force headquarters is checking Yehudi's record to see if he rates as an ace.

First Lieuts. Donald I. Evans, Butte, Mont., and Dale C. Cord, Albion, Pa., watched Yehudi operate today. They saw a Mig across the Yalu River border of Manchuria, performing acrobats in the air, as if in training.

Said Evans:

"We first noticed this Mig doing all manner of stunts. He was really showing off, although he seemed a sloppy pilot. All of a sudden he went into a high-speed turn, snapped over into a tight spin and couldn't recover.

"He spun right on down into the ground, still over the river in Manchurian territory. I guess 'Yehudi' gets this one for sure.

"Nice to know 'Yehudi' is on our side!"

Food Parcel Sale Hit

LONDON, March 5 (CP).—Disclosure that British Railway employees have been authorized to purchase perishable goods salvaged from food parcels damaged in transit, has provoked widespread indignation throughout the country. Demands have been made for an immediate inquiry by a committee of the House of Commons.

The practice of private purchase became known when an employee in the parcel office of Marylebone station in London was arraigned in court on a charge of stealing 12 pounds of butter—a rationed commodity in the United Kingdom.

The accused workman pleaded innocent and told the court he had merely bought the butter with approval from the chief clerk, after it had been established that the parcel had been badly mutilated and was without an address.

A spokesman for the British Railways admitted the practice of private purchase prevailed.

'Five-Markers' Busy Again In West Berlin

BERLIN, March 5 (AP).—The "five-markers" are around town again.

Like the groundhog, they occasionally crawl out of their holes, sniff political winds from east and west and go to work.

They are male and female, young and old, thin and fat. They have only one thing in common—they all "know something" and are willing to peddle it for five marks.

Ever since crossroads Berlin became established as the only genuine peephole behind the iron curtain, the five-markers have been in business. From the deep recesses of their "sources" they have over the years:

1. Found a "revolt" in the Communist army in East Germany.
2. Discovered "pitched battles" between Russians and Germans in the Soviet zone.
3. Blown up half the uranium mines.
4. "Learned" that Stalin is dead and a double sits in for him and also that he isn't dead but is dying.
5. "Purged" Otto Grotewohl, East German prime minister, at least three times, and Communist Party boss Walter Ulbricht occasionally; "tipped" that propaganda chief Gerhart Eislwer is in disgrace.

It never abashes the five-marker that none of these things happen. By the time the "tip" is dead, he's got new ones, anyway. The standard price is five marks ($1.19) for a good tip on "hot developments" within the Soviet empire.

When the market gets dull for Soviet-Communist "disasters," there's always the Nazis. Every beer stube in town was "hosting" new Nazi groups this winter, according to the five-markers. Whatever happened to all those Nazis after the topic wore off hasn't been discovered.

Allergy, once an almost unknown word, is today a commonly used name for the sensitive reaction of certain people to ordinary substances which they inhale, touch or eat. Whether the allergy takes the form of hay fever, skin eruption or an asthmatic condition, a doctor should be consulted to identify the cause and prescribe treatment.

Cattle Disease Control Procedure Followed in Europe Recommended

A Fellow of the American Geographical Society and member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Mr. Alexander was called in two years ago by the U.S. general staff at the Pentagon in Washington for advice on atomic radiation and its effect on the micro-climate. He has lectured over American radio networks, in Canadian and U.S. universities and to branches of the U.S. War Department. He is an honorary officer of the Dominion game department and a member of the International Foundation for the Study of Cycles.

By KENNETH C. ALEXANDER

Aphthous fever has been discovered in the beef and dairy cattle herds in Saskatchewan where it has been present since November. The surprising part about the outbreak is that no action has been taken till this late date.

Foot and mouth disease in animals causes the tongue to swell, then vesicles appear in the mouth, between the hooves and on the soft parts of the body, these leave a running sore accompanied by a high fever. Young animals will not eat, so starve to death.

If the disease is a virulent type there is a death rate of approximately 20 per cent.

Aphthous fever is a non-filterable virus infection, this means that the virus will pass through the walls of a porcelain filter. The disease is highly infectious not only to other cloven-footed animals, but it also occurs in human beings.

The infection which has four known types, can be transmitted by the mucus secretions and the virus spread by many types of animals that have come into contact with it. Boots, the tires of cars, floors, wagons and the feet of birds have been known to spread the infection.

NOT CORRECT

It has been stated by men who should know better, that the current outbreak is the first that has occurred in Canada. This is not correct. In 1870 we had an outbreak of the disease near Montreal, brought to this country by infected cattle from England, the epidemic spread across the border to the United States before it was checked.

In Mexico there has been an extensive outbreak over the last few years, the American government like a good neighbor has spent millions along with the Mexican government in an [illegible]

The method used is the same as has been used in Canada, a strict quarantine of the infected district and the killing of all cattle in the area, followed by prompt burial.

A fair price has been given the farmers to recompense for their loss. As most of the cattle were of inferior stock it is probable that in time this policy will benefit the stockmen as replacement cattle will be of a much higher grade.

SERIOUS CONDITION

With the advent of Aphthous fever in Canadian cattle a much more serious condition exists. If the infection can be stopped by the slaughter of domestic animals in the quarantine district of Saskatchewan, the policy followed by the government is a good one.

However, there is a grave possibility that the epidemic will spread. If this happens an unrestricted slaughter of infected animals is not the answer. Once the disease reaches our game animals such as deer, moose and other cloven-footed animals we will have foot and mouth disease permanently established in Canada.

It is with this grave probability that I will now deal.

If the epidemic is not controlled in Saskatchewan and spreads, it will rapidly become impossible to slaughter all infected animals and we must face this probability.

I would suggest that a study be made of control methods in Europe where scientists have carried on research on the disease for over 100 years. Details of the most advanced research can easily be obtained from Denmark.

EFFECTIVE PROTECTION

According to the most advanced information on the subject a new serum has been developed by Danish scientists, within the last year, which gives effective protection to domestic animals for about a year.

Unlike the old serum the animals are immunized within five days after the injection, serum can be adapted to control all four types of the fever. Quarantine of the infected herd is practised and immunizing shots are given to all cattle in a 25-mile radius. The cost is about 50 cents a head.

To conclude, we must face the fact that sooner or later Aphthous fever will become common among cattle herds in America. Therefore it is high time we approached the problem in a scientific manner.

Rink Construction By Curling Group To Start on June 1

If the 400-member Victoria Curling Association realizes its most ardent dream—Victoria [illegible] season.

At the association's annual meeting last night, a small but enthusiastic gathering elected an executive and then gave them the go-ahead signal to start fund-raising for the proposed eight-sheet, $130,000 rink.

The association will attempt to raise the money by selling debentures up to $150,000. It plans to begin construction June 1.

The rink will be constructed on property facing Quadra Street, directly behind Memorial Arena. The association has a 20-year lease on the property from the city.

President Max Zabel has announced that construction could start with $50,000. Last year $40,000 was collected towards a rink but government restrictions on steel and pipes forced cancellation of plans and all money was returned.

The association now proposes to build the rink of concrete blocks with a 20-year-guaranteed tar roof. Cost for the building was estimated at $85,000 with an approximate $10,000 for installing the freezing unit.

E. J. Mickey of the Canadian Ice Machine Company of Vancouver informed the meeting that they would save about $8,000 should they reach an agreement to get the ice from Memorial Arena. The arena management has been reported as willing to make such an arrangement. However, the meeting felt that if possible it would rather install its own unit.

A. Kilgore, vice-president of the Victoria Figure Skating Club, suggested a possible tie-up between the two organizations and the construction of a dual-purpose building. The two clubs are expected to meet in the near future to discuss the benefits of such a plan.

Zabel was re-elected president by acclamation while E. D. Bullock was returned as vice-president. Mark Trueman is secretary-treasurer. K. L. Moysey, G. A. Lauder, Trueman and R. W. Hibberson were elected to the executive for a two-year term.

Lee Watson was named to the executive for one year in place of Alderman Jim Neely who resigned. Neely stated that it would be better if he were not a member of the association's executive so that he might vote should the organization have any dealings with the city council. He pointed out that as executive member of the Victoria Baseball Club he was not allowed to vote in the recent issues.

Lieut.-Governor Clarence Wallace was named honorary president while Premier Byron Johnson, Herbert Anscomb and Mayor Claude Harrison were elected first, second and third honorary vice-presidents, respectively.

It was decided that as soon as the executive has raised enough money to start operations a meeting will be called to discuss the final plans.

Vikings Down Victoria High On Late Goal

A goal by Mark Carley in the last 10 minutes of play enabled the Victoria College Vikings to edge Victoria High School, 1-0, in an exhibition soccer match at the Fernwood grounds yesterday.

Although only a practice game, it served as an excellent tune-up for the Fernwood crew who face a rugged schedule in Colonist Cup play.

A stiff wind made playing conditions practically impossible but the Vikings were faster on the ball and made the most of all their moves. Until the winning goal, both teams were content to play defensive soccer and the goalies had a comparatively quiet afternoon.

With 10 minutes remaining, Carley picked up a quick pass from centre and gave Ronnie Lou Poy little chance with his shot.

Trail Captures W.I.H.L. Crown

SPOKANE, March 5 (AP).—Two third-period goals gave Trail Smoke Eaters a 5-3 win over the Spokane Flyers last night in the deciding game of the Montgomery Cup playoffs of the Western International Hockey League.

Smokies took the best-of-five series three games to two.

Settle Shuttle Debate

Both Teams Relax Rules For Naming Cup Players

CALGARY, March 5 (CP)—Canada and the United States have fought to a draw in the pre-series battle of the Thomas Cup badminton committees.

G. L. Crawford of Calgary announced today that the United States committee has agreed to waive the controversial 10-day selection rule and in return Canada has relaxed the 48-hour position-naming stipulation.

The on-the-court north American zone Thomas Cup tie is to be held at Calgary March 21 and 22.

Crawford, president of the Canadian Badminton Association and chairman of Canada's Thomas Cup committee, said he received word from Donald Richardson of Waben, Mass., president of the U.S. Badminton Association, stating that the U.S. officials had decided to allow Canada to by-pass the 10-day ruling. The matter was settled in the U.S. by a mail vote after the International Thomas Cup Association had said the two countries could relax the ruling if both were in agreement.

Both regulations were set by the International Association. The 10-day rule states that all team members for any international series be named at least 10 days prior to the start of the matches. The 48-hour ruling says that positions of players selected must be specified 48 hours before the opening of the matches.

TWO TO BE ADDED

Canada has named four members of its six-man team and intends to name the other two during the national championships at Winnipeg next week. These two will be selected only seven days before the Thomas Cup matches begin.

In return for the relaxation of the 10-day regulation the U.S. association held out and received a similar but less important concession.

The positions of the U.S. team members will not be made known until the day before the opening of play, therefore delaying the draw until the same time.

Richardson said the U.S. committee felt it would like to give its players as much time as possible to practice on the Calgary courts before naming the line-up.

Scott & Wright Beaten; Eaglettes Cop Big Lead

Scott & Wright failed to overcome a two-point deficit at Victoria High School last night and, as a result, Alberni captured the Vancouver Island junior boys' basketball championship.

Alberni defeated the Victoria and Lower Island champions, 34-31, in the second game total-point series to take the series, 78-73. The up-Island squad won the opener, 44-42, at Alberni.

Scott & Wright rallied in the third period to overcome the deficit and take a three-point lead in total-points, but was unable to hold their advantage.

Galliaux of Alberni paced both teams with 12 points.

Eaglettes took an 11-point lead in the two-game total-point series for the Vancouver Island junior girls' crown by dumping Port Alberni, 34-23, in the first game last night.

The winners outscored Port Alberni in all but the last quarter, leading 32-15 after the third quarter. M. Pearce led the Eaglettes with 10 points while C. Copas pushed up nine.

In an exhibition women's game, Macdonalds, Vancouver Island senior B women's champions, defeated Arrow Furniture Vancouver Island intermediate A girls' title-holders, 36-24. Chris Boyd of Arrows took scoring honors with 12 points.

Line-ups follow:

Port Alberni—Olander 5, Price 9, Knowles 7, Stuzaker, McLean, Jordan, Pearce, Mott, Galliaux 12, McGilluy. Total 34.

Scott & Wright—Corbett 7, H. Creighton, Hawes 1, McCreadie 6, C. Creighton 9, M. Partridge 7, Little 1, Gilliam. Total 31.

Victoria Game To Be Handled By Dan Kulai

A Vancouver referee will be an added attraction at Royal Athletic Park Saturday when Victoria United and Vancouver City tangle in a second-half Coast Soccer League match.

George Eade, United president, stated last night that he has been informed by league-secretary Horace Lear that Dan Kulai, veteran whistle-tooter from the mainland and brother of ex-United coach George, will handle Saturday's match. Lear also announced that Victoria referee Les Isaacson will handle the league match in Vancouver.

It was not announced whether the changes were made because of complaints of Vancouver teams about Victoria officiating but that is the general presumption. Isaacson's work, however, has received general approbation and his trip to Vancouver is to give officials a chance to watch him in action on neutral grounds.

Curlers Keep Use of Slide

WINNIPEG, March 5 (CP)—The Dominion Curling Association today approved continued use of the "Winnipeg slide" in delivery of curling rocks but ruled that the rock must be released from the centre line.

Curlers using this style must not swing to either side, the association declared following a spirited discussion at its annual meeting here. No limit was placed on the length of the slide.

Army Stages Terrific Comeback

Beats Merchants, 5-4, With Thrilling Rally; Navy Swamps Bottlers

By IAN GLENDAY

Commercial Hockey League fans, who have maintained all season that the backbone of the [illegible] lar netminding of Felix Lange and the one-two scoring punch of Rod Hallam and Stu Vary, were more than convinced after last night's game at the Memorial Arena.

An estimated 2,100 paying customers filed out the rink with smug satisfaction after watching the Soldiers nip the Merchants 5-4 with a pulsating third-period rally that saw them overcome a four-goal deficit.

Army's win knotted its best-of-five semi-final series with the Merchants and slightly overshadowed the fact that Navy went on the biggest scoring spree of the season to swamp 7-Ups, 13-4, in the opener. Navy took a formidable two-game lead in its series with the Bottlers, and unless 7-Ups can shake out the lethargy that enveloped them last night, they can start thinking about hanging up their skates for another year. The third games of the semi-finals are slated for the arena next Monday night.

COMPLETE REVERSAL

Army, hit hard by injuries in recent weeks, showed little in the first two periods as the Merchants completely outplayed the Soldiers and it was only the fine work of Lange that kept the score from reaching major proportions. However, the Soldiers showed a complete reversal of form in the final stanza as they back-checked with authority and generally made life miserable for the fast-tiring Merchants, especially Ab Ellis in the nets.

Seldom allowing the Merchants to organize a concentrated attack and sending every man up in an effort to cut the lead, the Soldiers had the crowd on its feet as they tied the count with seven minutes remaining. The big break came when Rod Jensen was banished to the sin-bin for charging. Taking full advantage of the extra attacker, Army stormed all around the Merchant citadel and were rewarded just fifty seconds from time when Hallam picked up the winner from a goal-mouth scramble.

TWO BIG NIGHTS

For Hallam and Vary, it was a big night. Hallam, the lanky centre, banged in three goals, all in the last half of the final period, while the hard-working Vary was all over the ice, still finding time to add a goal and three assists.

As far as 7-Ups were concerned, it was a bad night as the rugged schedule seemed to have caught up with them. On the other hand, Navy could do no wrong and on the basis of its performance could go all the way to the title.

Although holding the Tars—mainly through the efforts of Ed Varga and Norm LaCree—to a reasonable margin in the first two frames, Bottlers wilted badly in the last period under constant Navy pressure and were a thoroughly tired and disorganized crew of pucksters at the end of the game.

Navy held a 2-1 edge at the [illegible] creased the margin to 5-1 going into the third.

Perhaps inspired to greater incentive by the appearance of the Navy band, the Tars erupted for eight goals in the final frame to break the contest wide open. Buck Schlievert in the Bottler net had a particularly rough evening but could hardly be blamed for many of the goals as the losers seemed to fold under the relentless onslaught of the Sailors and gave him little protection.

Roy Derry led the scoring parade with four goals and three assists while Russ McKay added two goals and three assists and Doug Johnson picked up a pair of markers and two assists. For 7-Ups, it was the line of Varga, LaCree and Leachman that did all the damage.

Main, Macken Both Advance

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 5 (CP)—Canada's Lorne Main and Brendan Macken advanced today into the second round of the Caribbean tennis championships today.

Main, up-and-coming internationalist from Vancouver, easily defeated E. C. Aris of Jamaica 6-1, 6-3. Macken, veteran Montrealer, took the measure of L. A. Kirkaldy, Jamaica, 9-7, 6-2.

Dick Savitt, Wimbledon champion, led the favorites with a 6-3, 6-1 victory over David Lurie of South Africa. Budge Patty, 1950 Wimbledon titleholder, also advanced in straight sets. He eliminated Nils Rohlsson of Stockholm, 6-4, 6-4.

Rugby Union Commences Cup Play Next Week End

Victoria Rugby Union officials announced at a meeting last night that the regular league schedule has concluded and playoffs for the Barnard Cup, symbolic of Greater Victoria Rugby Union supremacy, will commence on March 22.

Crusaders were declared league champions, finishing the schedule with a healthy ten-point lead over J.B.A.A., which wound up second. Victoria College Vikings and Oak Bay Wanderers finished in a deadlock for third place, five points behind the Oarsmen.

The cup playoffs bring together the first and fourth-place teams and the second and third-place squads. As the Vikings and the Wanderers ended in a third-place tie, officials tossed a coin, with the Vikings loosing the toss and entering the playoffs against the Crusaders. Wanderers and Oarsmen tangle in the other series.

Winners of the Barnard Cup travel to the mainland in the middle of April to meet Vindex for the Rounsfell Cup, which marks provincial club supremacy. Vindex, recently-crowned Vancouver champions, are the present holders of the trophy.

League officials also announced that Vancouver Island competition for the Cowichan Cup, symbolic of Island rugby supremacy, will start on April 5 or 12, depending on open dates. Any club on the Island is eligible to compete in the knock-out tournament, which is also open to fifteens from the mainland.

On April 5, J.B.A.A. journey to the mainland to meet Vancouver Rowing Club for the Cox Trophy.

Victoria Crimson Tide will begin work-outs tonight in preparation for their contest against Varsity Thunderbirds, slated for March 15 at U.B.C. Both fifteens wound up in a deadlock for the McKechnie Cup, and the locals will be going all out in an effort to capture the prize, something they have not been able to do for a long time.

Only rugby action this week end sees Oak Bay Wanderers and J.B.A.A. tangle in an exhibition match at Windsor Park, and Crusaders and University School Old Boys clashing at University School. Both games will get under way at 2.30.

C.A.H.A. Prexy Says Canada Should Drop Olympic Hockey

VANCOUVER, March 5 (CP)—Doug Grimston, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said today he will recommend Canada drop out of Olympic hockey competition.

"There is no use carrying on any longer," he said. "European nations in particular, will not agree to uniform rules. As a result every game is confusion of shinny, with a sprinkling of hockey."

Grimston arrived home from the Games today.

"In Europe bodychecking is not permitted . . . you cannot skate with your opposing check. If you do and if you hit his stick, that's interference. What we call 'shadowing' is bad taste over there."

TACOMA, March 5 (AP)—Saskatoon Quakers and Tacoma Rockets battled to a 1-1 tie here tonight in a well-played Pacific Coast Hockey League game.

Bob Manson managed Quakers' only goal at 12.17 of the second period. Young Wayne Brown tied things up for the Rockets at 12.20 of the third period as he fired a hard shot from just inside the blue line. Goalie Lorne Worsley apparently had made the save, but the puck dribbled over his stick into the net.

The game was held up for about 10 minutes with only 40 seconds remaining in the third period when Worsley was hit by Moe Young's stick as the Tacoma forward was skating in to make a play. Worsley returned to the ice shaken up but apparently uninjured.

The little Saskatoon netminder played brilliantly in kicking out 24 Rocket shots and Tacoma's Doug Stevenson also had a good night, making 37 saves during the fast-moving action.

Rider's Mother Threatened In Racing Fix

BALTIMORE, March 5 (INS).—The mother of Jockey Richard Williams told police today that she had been threatened with death unless her son pleads guilty to charges of fixing a race at a New Hampshire track.

Mrs. Estelle Williams, 39, said she received a long distance telephone call, and that a man with a broken accent told her that if her son pleads innocent, "he'll return and find you floating in the harbor."

She said the man had called her twice before, the first time at 6.45 a.m., but that a second threat was made early this afternoon.

Her 20-year-old son was believed en route to Exeter, N.H., to answer charges of fixing races at Rockingham track near Salem, N.H.

Many Seeking Provincial Paddle Titles

Almost 60 entries have been received for the British Columbia table tennis championships which will be held at the Club Sirocco headquarters of the Victoria Table Tennis Association tomorrow and Saturday.

Heading the out-of-town paddlers coming over for the tournament is Bob Hage of Portland who will be defending his men's singles title. Fred Ward and Sam Houston of Vancouver will defend their men's doubles crown and Jean Rose and Art Barran, also of Vancouver, will be out to retain their mixed doubles championship.

Nan Craig, Victoria's brightest hope, will be defending her women's singles crown.

Houston, Gerald Addy, Harold Keenlyside and Barran are expected to give Hage the most trouble. Mrs. Craig's toughest competition is expected to come from Mrs. Rose and Enid Smith, who eliminated the Victoria player in the semi-final round of the Vancouver championships recently.

Plate Form Proves Almost Too-Good

FULLERTON, Calif., March 5 (INS).—Chuck Connors, slugging first baseman for the Los Angeles Angels, was thankful his hitting aim was just a little off.

Connors showed the Angel brass he was in good shape by belting a pair of baseballs over the rightfield fence in batting practice.

LaMotta Gains Sizzling Draw With Hairston

DETROIT, March 5 (AP).—Former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta and Eugene Hairston battled to a draw in a sizzling 10-round slugfest before 10,039 fans tonight.

The scrap was so close that both judges scored it as even 50 points for each fighter. Referee Morris Sherman saw it for Hairston by a 50-48 margin, but under Michigan boxing rules the majority decision made it a draw.

The former middleweight king, sporting 7½-pound advantage at 168½, found Hairston a willing opponent all the way.

La Motta, who announced before the fight that he would retire from the ring if the younger Hairston beat him decisively, had plenty of moments when it looked as if his ring career was about to end.

Hairston's body attack slowed Jake down on several occasions but on each occasion the New York slugger bounced back to even things up.

Only Manitoba Unbeaten as Trail Rink Stops Bluenoses

Standing in the Canadian curling championship after six rounds:

	Won	Lost
Manitoba	5	0
Nova Scotia	4	1
Ontario	4	1
Alberta	4	1
British Columbia	4	2
Saskatchewan	3	3
New Brunswick	2	3
Quebec	2	4
Northern Ontario	1	4
Prince Edward Island	1	5
Newfoundland	0	6

WINNIPEG, March 5 (CP)—Reg Stone of Trail, B.C., snapped Nova Scotia's winning streak at four games tonight on the sixth round of the Canadian curling championship, leaving idle Manitoba the only unbeaten rink.

The 9-8 loss dropped Nova Scotia into a three-way tie for second place with Ontario and Alberta, each with four wins and one loss. Manitoba, who drew a bye tonight, has a 5-0 record. B.C. was close up—four wins in six starts.

Ontario's Dr. J. R. Clark had to go all out to win 9-6 over a stubbon Newfoundland rink, skipped by Tommy Tomelin of Corner Brook. Alberta continued its winning ways by downing Quebec 13-11.

Saskatchewan outlasted northern Ontario 14-10, while New Brunswick downed Prince Edward Island, 14-8.

Tomorrow's draw—the toughie of the five-day, 11-round 'spiel—sees matches in the morning, afternoon and evening. Feature matches will be Ontario's games with Nova Scotia and Alberta, and the Manitoba-Nova Scotia clash in the evening.

With Manitoba on the sidelines tonight, the British Columbia-Nova Scotia game drew most attention from the fair-sized crowd. It was a see-saw battle all the way, with B.C.'s deadly knockout game on the last end preserving its lead.

For Skip Henry Blanchard it was a heart-breaker to lose. He had been curling brilliantly through the close match, drawing when his vice-skip called for a draw; shooting accurate-runners when called for a knock-out.

But the Trail rink was equal to the occasion when Skip Stone called the play. It was by far their best game of the 'spiel.

Probably the turning point of the match came on the 11th end when Blanchard shooting the final rock, tried a double raise off a B.C. rock. His stone was true, raising the opponent's rock up to his own but it was inches light and failed to get his other rock into the shot position. And B.C. counted two to go home two-up.

Earlier today, a spectacular last rock draw to the four-foot circle by Skip Billy Walsh gave Manitoba an 8-5 victory over New Brunswick. Nova Scotia kept pace with a 13-8 win over Quebec.

Blacks held a wide edge in play throughout and ran up a big early lead to hold a 22-9 margin at half time. Louise Heal and Darlene Robertson paced the winners with 13 and 12 points, respectively. Jackie Ormond was high for the losers with 10.

Next games, tonight: New York at Chicago, Boston at Detroit.

TORONTO, March 5 (CP)—Detroit Red Wings backed into their fourth straight National Hockey League championship when Toronto Maple Leafs whipped the second-place Montreal Canadiens 6-2 here tonight. Neither Leafs nor Canadiens can catch the Wings, who were idle tonight.

With only nine games remaining to play in the 70-game N.H.L. schedule, the Red Wings have an 87-point total, 17 more than Canadiens who have completed 62 games. Toronto, also with 62 games, now has 68 points.

Sid Smith and Tod Sloan led the Leafs in their rampaging victory. Toronto blasted 48 shots at Montreal's Gerry McNeil—20 of them in a torrid second period—and it was surprising that he stopped as many as he did.

Howie Meeker and Max Bentley got single goals to go with the doubles by Sloan and Smith—it was the 22nd of the season for each of the two swift wingmen.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion scored for the Canadiens in the second period and Rookie Dick Gamble cracked in another on an unassisted play with 40 seconds left in the game. His quick shot caught goalie Al Rollins by surprise.

Penalties were a factor in four of the eight goals. The Leafs scored twice when they had a two-man advantage—Smith in the first period and Meeker in the second. One of Sloan's pair came on a cleverly executed breakaway play while the Leafs were a man short. Geoffrion tipped in a shot by Bill Reay while the Canadiens had an edge in manpower.

Referee Bill Chadwick—who penalized five players in the first five minutes—kept the game tightly in hand. The Canadiens served five minor penalties and one major. The Leafs drew eight minors and one misconduct—to Max Bentley for arguing a high-sticking sentence. Doug Harvey got the Montreal major for slashing Fern Flaman on the cheek during a high-sticking joust.

Indians Seek Established Senior Stars

North Shore Indians will be a definite contender for the honors in the Inter-City Lacrosse League this year if plans to strengthen the club materialize.

Club president Cece Goodrich announced yesterday that he is "dickering" for three established senior stars—Mike Munro of New Westminster Commandos, goalie Jack Green of Vancouver Combines and an unnamed player from the east.

Goodrich also disclosed that 15 prospects attended Indians' workout Tuesday and that coach Clary Jenion reports at least four of the juniors ready to move up to senior ranks.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

Stay behind the ball! But don't stay so far behind it that you have most of your weight on your right foot and could be pushed right flat on your back bumper if somebody shoved you with a feather. Many fellows who think they have acquired about as perfect golf form as they'll ever be able to get, still make shots that wind up a wild, roundhouse slice. The reason is that their minds are well ahead of the ball when it is hit, and the club is on a bias, pointing to the right of the intended line of flight. Then, when the player's arms swing around, the face of the club is drawn across the ball and gives the ball a clockwise spin which takes it in a sweeping right curve to yonder cornfield. Often this is caused by forgetting to use the hands in hitting the ball. Such players swing down to about the point where the wrists should be uncocked, then they don't do anything about it—they don't pour those hands and wrists into the swing. Feel your hands get into the shot and you'll reduce your slicing.

Embarrassed? . . . Not the Scribes

DENVER, March 5 (AP).—The Denver Post sports department dipped into the files yesterday and came up with a letter written to the department last November by basketball coach Pete Butler of Colorado State.

The paper quoted the letter today as follows:

"I would pick our team to finish last and I feel quite certain that season play will bear me out. Our team will have to improve considerably to get out of the cellar. I mean this [illegible].

"We might toughen up and win a couple of games in the last half of the season. . . . Do not pick us to finish any higher than the cellar as you might be embarrassed."

Butler's Colorado State cagers improved so much during the season that they tied Montana State's powerful Bobcats for the Rocky Mountain conference title.

Oak Bay	0	0	1	0	0	1

Mount Douglas increased its lead in the Inter-High School Junior Soccer League by battling to a scoreless tie with Esquimalt at Mount Douglas yesterday.

The tie gave Mount Douglas a two-point bulge over Victoria High, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, who are bunched in second place.

A stiff wind hampered playing conditions, putting good soccer at a minimum. Shooting with the wind in the first half, Esquimalt held most of the play, but could not pierce a strong defense set up by the home squad. It was much the same story in the second half, as Mount Douglas grabbed the initiative to bottle Esquimalt in its own end. The defense held strong and the Gordon Head crew had to settle for a deadlock.

Scottish Curlers to Tour Canada

WINNIPEG, March 5 (CP)—Seventy-five Scottish curlers in three 25-man teams from the Royal Caledonian Curling Club will tour Canada in January, 1953.

Arrangements for the tour were announced today at the annual meeting of the Dominion Curling Association.

A single team toured Canada in 1948-1949. A program committee report said the 1948-1949 team found the trip strenuous and the R.C.C.C. suggested that travel requirements would be eased by sending three teams of 25 curlers.

One team will visit each of the following areas: Maritimes-Quebec, Ontario-Manitoba and Saskatchewan-Alberta-British Columbia.

Strathcona Cup matches will be played in 12 five-game matches. Four 12-end matches will be played in each area.

Remember When . .

The mile bicycle record held by Torchy Peden of Victoria, B.C., was shattered at Los Angeles 17 years ago today by Frank Bartell, who skimmed around the track at 80.5 miles an hour, four miles an hour better than the mark established by Peden.

Cowboys with their high-heeled boots go to movies on Saturday nights in parts of the west, chiefly to see western films. They love to criticize the riding and anything else which does not square up with ranch life as they know it.

Old Master Eyes Budget

—YESTERDAY IN THE HOUSE—

The Johnson budget on Wednesday was given the once-over by that old master of finance himself, Mr. Anscomb.

Mr. Anscomb took a look, came up with the thought that perhaps the government is spending too much—perhaps just a little too much. He said he doubted if he'd have gone as far as $112,000,000 in one year—but then, of course, he couldn't quite tell, he said, not having been the minister of finance for six weeks or so.

He said he'd have been more conservative [illegible] he stressed [illegible] Maybe" Mr. Johnson, he said, had left [illegible]

Mr. Anscomb [illegible] the sales tax. Of course he didn't [illegible] sales tax. He said social security and Municipal Aid Tax. And [illegible] across his desk, got chummy with Mr. Johnson, to say: "At one time, Mr. Premier, it was called mine [illegible] tax, so you'd better look out because now it's yours."

There were no fireworks in Mr. Anscomb's talk. He didn't call the premier names or blast many holes in his budget. Mr. Johnson looked quite content at so warm a reception. These two, as a matter of fact, are probably better friends now that they're open and above-board political enemies.

Mr. Anscomb told the premier again that he thinks the budget too high, and he confounded everyone by saying he's sure some of the Anscomb budgets were too high, too, but there you are, and what can you do about it?

It was a bit tough on Mr. Anscomb having to criticize this first Johnson budget, because it was he who did most of its spadework.

He said he disagreed with the premier on federal-provincial tax arrangements but it wasn't much of a disagreement, really, and there were no cross words. Mr. Johnson continued to look pleased, indeed, practically smug.

Some features of this agreement, Mr. Anscomb said, will be [illegible] to future governments. "It certainly will be to MY government [illegible], Madame Speaker," he said, with that [illegible] grin of his.

The more one observes this man Anscomb, the more one is astonished at the excellence of his speech-making—clear, vigorous [illegible] at times, always at the right time, pleasant voice, perfectly natural gestures, not an irritating mannerism, never long [illegible] when he'd sit down.

The words flow, they [illegible] superb diction. If Mr. Anscomb had been born a little more artistic he might well have made a great Shakespearean monologist.

He showed some interest, which surprised everyone, in agriculture, said that the agriculture department should have more money. He was particularly concerned about Saanich, about drought conditions there, said he knew everyone would say it was only because he has a farm in Saanich.

He admitted it, as a farmer, he said he had asked for some government aid when his loganberry crop was ruined, farmers always do that, he said. Why shouldn't he? As to the loganberries—where do they go? To make wine and Mr. Anscomb doesn't care who knows.

Mr. Anscomb sat down and the premier got along with some session business. CCF leader Harold Winch wanted more light on the income tax agreement with Ottawa. He said this is mighty important business to the people of B.C., that he can't get any information about it, so how can he be sure whether the agreement should be signed or not. Mr. MacDougall was bewildered about this too, said he would like some more information. Premier Johnson, growing more suave as the days go by, promised an explanation later.

Mr. Winch was on his feet again over minor, technical amendments to the Elections Act. He grew very furious, called the act [illegible], said the government should be condemned for it. It's disgraceful, he cried out, it limits electors' freedom of choice. Madame Speaker ruled Mr. Winch out of order, so he subsided, having made his point, and threatened to talk about it again.

The House went back in the evening—to hear speeches from Independent Mrs. Tilly Rolston of Point Grey and Liberal Mr. Morrow of North Okanagan.

Mrs. Rolston, boasting of her independence from government, opposition and everyone but herself, said this session's nothing but one of expedience, and so was the break-up of coalition, nothing but expedience, so there! She said she wasn't kicked across the floor—she went under her own steam.

She hadn't much faith in the government['s] plan to see about reports of labor and hospital insurance committees. She was sure the government wasted pots of money on these reports, and nothing'll happen except they'll be pigeonholed as in the past. Mrs. Rolston could be so right!

Then this bright light of the legislature really got going. She said the government ignores the people and their pressing wants. Get rid of the [illegible] board, she cried, in her more anguished way, which is anguished indeed. Save the public money by letting poor [illegible] in stores than delivered. Save the [illegible] about it. And, it must be said, Tilly Jean Rolston was effective as she cried thus in anguish.

Liberal Mr. Morrow of North Okanagan suitably praised the [illegible] for the budget presentation. The premier, said Mr. Morrow, did a masterly job. Mr. Morrow wanted some changes in education, chiefly better salaries for teachers. He was glad the attorney-general is going to hold a liquor plebiscite—the attorney-general "who has been such a real support for this government," emoted Mr. Morrow.

[illegible] Mr. Morrow has a good word for the Boy Scouts and the good they do, which is good indeed; this year he plugged for the Girl Guides—would the government please give the Girl Guides some more money?

And so the budget debate went on, the throne debate over [illegible] M.L.A.'s [illegible] everything under the sun [illegible] the budget debate instead of throne speech debate.

Winch Demands Details About Tax-Rental Deal

Members of the Legislature are being kept in the dark about the details of a proposed new five-year tax-rental agreement between the province and the federal government, C.C.F. leader Harold Winch charged yesterday.

Mr. Winch said he had found it almost impossible to get information on the [illegible] covering corporation income tax. He said he had written to Premier Byron Johnson, who, with former finance minister Herbert Anscomb negotiated the new treaty, and had been told the information he wanted was only available from Ottawa.

If the Premier didn't know the details, he asked, on what basis have the negotiations been conducted?

He said the agreement would bind the government for five years and this is a mighty important decision to be made by a Legislature that is on the verge of dissolution.

He said he had been given to understand that the escape [illegible] in the proposed agreement would [illegible] worse [illegible] the expiration of the agreement than the province was in before the original tax-rental pact was signed in 1941.

"Where is the evidence that it is beneficial for us to renew this agreement?" he asked.

He said the Legislature should be told whether Ontario and Quebec have gained or lost by remaining aloof from federal-provincial [illegible].

A. R. MacDougall, [illegible] Vancouver [illegible], insisted that the complete contract to be signed should be [illegible] in the bill which would give the cabinet power to renew the agreement. Otherwise, he said, the Legislature would simply be handing the cabinet "a blank cheque."

Capital Grant Issue Raised

Victoria's bid for a capital city grant has been given an airing in the provincial legislature by city M.L.A. [illegible] D. J. Proudfoot.

Capt. Proudfoot has filed notice of several questions directed at Public Works Minister E. T. Kenney.

The Victoria member will ask for the value of provincially owned land and improvements in the city on which the government pays no taxes. He also will ask if the government carries insurance on the improvements.

City Manager Cecil Wyatt recently estimated the total value of federal and provincial government tax free property was $13,988,540. The provincial government alone would pay the city $280,695 a year if taxed, Mr. Wyatt said.

All-Year Merry-Go-Round Likely for Victoria Park

All the kids in Victoria from three to 6[illegible] may soon have a year-round amusement park fixture to keep them out of mischief.

City council parks committee gave tentative approval yesterday to a plan to install and operate a merry-go-round at Victoria West Park.

Representing Harold B. Gibbs, the proposer of the plan, A. P. Dawe, appeared before the committee yesterday. City Solicitor Arthur Patton and Mr. Dawe will jointly draw up an agreement for rental of a portion of the park property.

A rate of 12½ per cent of revenue for the city has been suggested with the owner keeping exclusive rights to a candy machine he may install.

Price Strife Sets Scene

Second-Hand Dealers Cash In

By BILL MAVOR

Victoria's undeclared price war now raging among a few appliance dealers is providing the city's second-hand dealers with a brisk business.

Canny customers are buying articles at low, second-hand prices and turning them in on new articles to get full advantage of giant trade-in allowances that have become the striking feature of the current price war, second-hand dealers said yesterday.

Ice-boxes in particular are selling fast at the used goods level, dealers report.

Second-hand dealers report that persons taking advantage of the high trade-in offers don't think that they're getting something for nothing.

Many mention the price increases during the past two or three years in electrical appliances as the basis for offering large trade-in values, according to second-hand dealers.

QUALITY POOR

Second-hand dealers are also cashing in when the appliance dealers sell the trade-in items. One dealer reported he had purchased 35 used items from a store during the past week. These are bolstering stocks at a time when used goods are becoming scarce, he said, adding that quality, however, is poor in many cases.

The price strife among a few retailers yesterday reached a new high—or low—with a retailer offering used electric washers for 98 cents, used electric ranges for $1.98 and wooden ice-boxes at 49 cents.

Trade-in allowances in some cases amount to approximately $200 for purchase of new goods.

Bargain-Hunters

Hot coffee helps during the chilly overnight vigil of bargain-hunters Roy Maycock, 1319 Gladstone (pouring), and Lowe Todd, 315 Beckley Avenue. Pair put up a camp cot at the entrance to appliance store to be first in line today for incredible bargains. Maycock wants an electric range for $1.98, and Todd has 98 cents ready for electric washing machine.—Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.

Forest License Requests Mount

The provincial government has received [illegible] applications for [illegible] Forest Minister E. T. Kenney said yesterday [illegible] Forest [illegible] Grand Forks.

The government has given [illegible] approval on 12 applications covering a total of 2,300,000 acres.

Under the forest management license, a [illegible] operator is given a tract of land to operate under a sustained-yield policy and down to the government. The operator does not own the land but uses the timber and pays a stumpage fee to the province.

The government has given tentative approval to nine other applications, Mr. Kenney said, but the approval can still be appealed to the provincial cabinet within 30 days of the date of approval.

One step farther away from final approval are 24 operators who have been given permission to advertise the fact that they have applied for licenses. If there are objections to the granting of a license the government holds public hearings to gather evidence for and against the license.

CASTLEGAR DISTRICT

In this group is Celgar Development Company, which has applied for a license covering 930,000 acres in the Castlegar district. The company plans a huge integrated forest industry using the low grade timber of the Arrow Lakes region for pulp and other products.

East Asiatic, in which chief stockholder is Prince Axel of Denmark, recently was refused a license covering a tract in the Gold River watershed, near Campbell River. The application was opposed by Campbell River residents who feared Gold River timber would be shipped out from the east coast of Vancouver Island instead of passing through Campbell River.

East Asiatic has appealed the government's decision.

The government is also considering applications from 88 other companies which have not yet been given permission to advertise.

C.P.R. Introducing Vessel to Handle Box Cars, Trucks

By HARRY YOUNG

Colonist Business Editor

For the first time, the Canadian Pacific Railway will be able to handle "anything on wheels" in its service between the mainland and Vancouver Island.

Captain O. J. Williams of the B.C. Steamships Service reported yesterday that his company had converted a military landing craft into a [illegible] which will carry either 2[illegible] railway box cars or [illegible] trucks.

The new vessel, Transfer Craft No. [illegible] in the [illegible] Vancouver-Nanaimo [illegible]

The vessel will be towed by a powerful tug and the 50-mile journey will be completed in four hours—just an hour and a half longer than is taken by the fast passenger Princesses.

"Our idea in putting this craft into service is to meet modern traffic requirements," said Capt. Williams.

At present the C.P.R. barges are unable to handle trucks or [illegible]. This new vessel will enable loaded trucks to be put aboard at either Vancouver or Nanaimo.

CHARGES SAVED

The service will save [illegible] charges which have [illegible] added [illegible] to [illegible] freight [illegible]

"With the opening of the Hope-Princeton highway and the improvement of the Island Highway, the truck traffic of the province has increased tremendously in the past two years and the C.P.R. is taking this step to fall in line with the modern trend," said Capt. Williams.

Officials of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce stated last night they were pleased at this turn of events.

"It has always been an objection to the C.P.R. service that they were unable to handle trucks. Many truckers used the Black Ball service even [illegible] involved a long road haul on the mainland," said George I. Warren, secretary.

The new vessel was bought [illegible]

City Approves Tree Removal

—AROUND TOWN—

City council parks committee went out on a limb yesterday by approving the removal of every other tree on the south side of Humboldt Street from Vancouver to Rupert.

The committee will recommend the action to city council following a request from F. H. Pitzer, 500 Vancouver Street, whose Avon Court apartment was being overshadowed by the thick growth.

Members of the committee visited the street last week with Mayor Claude L. Harrison and all agreed that removing of every other of trees would improve the appearance [illegible] of the street.

DID A BOTTLE DROPPED AT SEA BRING A CHRISTMAS TREE?

When Arthur H. Iles, a passenger aboard the passenger cargo ship Mormacyork, cast a note in a whiskey bottle into the sea off Nova Scotia last September, little did he dream his request would be granted. [illegible] he was near the [illegible] of Christmas trees. Mr. Iles put his name and address on the note and [illegible] suggested a Christmas present of a tree. When a huge crate was delivered at his home in Rockville Centre, Long Island, containing a beautiful nine-foot tree on Dec. 19, Iles couldn't believe his eyes! Enclosed was the following note: "Dear Mr. Iles . . . I was out codding . . . and picked in your bottle . . . He got Joe Carruthers to see if he can find you a pretty tree . . . You might have left a [illegible] a taste in the bottle . . . Yours, Jim Saunders" [illegible] 1952 New York Herald Tribune

North Cowichan Rules

Ratepayers Must Join Water System

DUNCAN, March 5—Ratepayers of Crofton who have not hooked up with the Crofton Water Works will be given 10 days in which to do so, before prosecutions are proceeded with under the Provincial Sanitary Act.

North Cowichan Council made this decision Monday night when the municipal clerk said only 12 of those ratepayers on the water line had failed to connect. Eight of 71 persons affected by the system opposed it when the local improvement by-law was put through, but some still resist the order of council to connect with the system.

Through negotiations with the B.C. Power Commission on installation of street lights throughout the municipality, council has been able to reduce a proposed expenditure by more than $2,000. For 20 lights in Duncan townsite the total cost will be $2,880, with the municipality's share $880. For 19 lights in Duncan West and North, the cost will be $2,404, with cost to the municipality $504.

For the 50 lights to be installed on this year's program, the cost to the municipality will be $1,483, compared with a previous estimate of $3,678.

Preliminary to the setting of the assessment rate for the year, council decided to stay by the decision of last year to tax 75 per cent of improvements, and 100 per cent of land.

Councillor [illegible] said, "The painful part of the increase in taxation was felt last year when the rate was increased from 50 per cent of improvements to 75 per cent. Having made that decision, we should stay with it."

Councillor Murison also proposed that a full-time caretaker be appointed for the municipal cemetery, council expressed satisfaction with the improvement that has been made in the cemetery, and decided to employ the present caretaker full time.

Three separate petitions from the Maple Bay Ratepayers' Association complaining about conditions of the Maple Bay road, will be looked into personally by the whole council.

The ratepayers claimed that potential residents were being driven away from making purchases in Maple Bay "because the desirability of the section was being ruined by inaccessibility while the Maple Bay road is under construction."

Higher Salaries Urged For Faculty of U.B.C.

More money for U.B.C. faculty members was recommended to the provincial legislature last night by Charles Morrow (Lib.-North Okanagan). He was speaking in the budget debate.

Increases in university faculty members' salaries are far below the rise in the cost of living, he said. The faculty members are asking for raises, he said, but their suggested increases are "too conservative."

He said he favored a liquor plebiscite, which he had asked for six years ago. The present liquor act, he said, "followed a plebiscite and was meant to be on a basis of moderation. I can't recall any mandate to make a profit of $18,000,000 or $20,000,000 a year."

$15,500,000 Bill Requires Dip Into Government Surplus

A bill to appropriate $15,500,000 from the provincial government's revenue surplus account was given first reading in the Legislature yesterday.

The bill calls for spending of $5,000,000 for repayment of a loan; $3,500,000 towards the government's $10,000,000, 1952-53 school building program; $3,000,000 for construction of a Vancouver - Squamish highway; $2,000,000 for improvement of the Northern Trans-Provincial Highway, and $2,000,000 for construction and improvements of secondary roads.

The $15,500,000 appropriation would leave $2,500,000 in the revenue surplus account, a fund built up by surplus revenues over the years.

C.C.F. Blasts Arms Program

OTTAWA, March 5 (CP).—The C.C.F.'s top body charged yesterday that Canada and her North Atlantic allies have gone overboard on rearmament in a "disastrous and irresponsible" way.

The national council of Canada's socialist party said dominating military leadership of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has succeeded in setting objectives for military formations which will wreck the economies of every western European country.

This first serious attack by a responsible political group in Canada on N.A.T.O.'s three-year $300,000,000,000 rearmament program was made in a statement summarizing decisions of the council's week end meeting in Ottawa.

The council criticized the federal government for failing to rally the alliance powers around a program of less armament and more economic rebuilding of Europe and urged the government to "oppose vigorously the armaments goals set at Lisbon."

Firm Explains Building Ship At Two Yards

Yarrows Ltd. has explained arrangements for building of a destroyer escort vessel at two west coast yards.

The contract was let the company on the understanding the vessel would be started at Vancouver and completed in the Victoria yard, according to the company. The information was given in a letter to Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) which sought the information for the Boilermakers' Union.

Only company arguments to the defense department pointing out west coast economies brought the contract to the yards, the letter said.

It is estimated that only 10 per cent of the vessel will be built at Vancouver and that the hull will be towed to Victoria in late October.

Investigating Man's Death

The body of an unidentified man was discovered by R.C.M.P. in a Ladysmith hotel yesterday.

Declining to give any details until a further investigation has been conducted, police officials said last night that "it could be suicide."

Labor Wants Tenders Called

Oak Bay municipality has been requested to call tenders for certain work in Willows and Hudson Bay subdivisions to speed home building.

A resolution passed by Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) calls for the municipality to call tenders for installation of sewers and for street work in the subdivisions.

Reds Release Three Priests

HONG KONG, March 5 (AP).—Three Roman Catholic priests, a Canadian and two Belgians, arrived today by boat from Tientsin after being held by the Chinese Communists.

The Canadian, Rev. Arthur Berube, said the Communists held him under house arrest in Wuhsien (Soochow) near Shanghai for nearly three years on "the usual charges." He declined to elaborate.

The two Belgians, Rev. Paul Jannie and Rev. J. Vangheluwe, said they were in prison for five months. They refused to say where or give any other details.

Lightning Hits U.S. School

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., March 5 (AP).—Twenty-one students escaped unharmed today after lightning struck and set fire to the main building of Cushing Academy, a private school. School officials said the boys were awakened when the bolt struck the building's tower and had time to make their way to the street before the flames spread to their third-floor dormitory.

Tilly Rolston, Housewife's Champion, Champions Sunday-School Teachings

By T. A. MEYERS

Tilly Rolston, constant champion of the harried housewife, gave the provincial legislature a little homely advice last night.

Making her first speech of the current session, Mrs. Rolston told the assembly: "We won't go far wrong if we follow our Sunday school teachings."

Then she went on to a little lecture about the spirit of liberty, which she [illegible] lacking in the present government.

"The spirit of liberty," she said, "is the spirit which is not too sure it is right . . . the spirit which seeks to understand the minds of other men and women . . . the spirit which weighs their interests alongside its own without bias . . . the spirit which remembers that not even a sparrow falls to earth unheeded; the spirit of liberay is the spirit of Him who, nearly 2,000 years ago, taught mankind that lesson it has never learned [illegible] that there may be a kingdom where the least shall be heard and considered side by side with the greatest."

PREDICTABLE MOVE

Mrs. Rolston predictably insisted that the government abolish co-insurance charges to hospital patients. It was over the co-insurance question that Mrs. Rolston bolted from the Coalition government last spring. She now sits as an Independent, representing Vancouver-Point Grey.

"I crossed the floor on a matter of principle," she told the House. "I went back to my constituency and got a vote of confidence. I wasn't kicked across."

She said there were others in the House who probably wished they had deserted the government with her.

She spoke scornfully of members of two legislative inquiry boards, which spent a year probing the hospital insurance service and the labor code, and who now "give us nice little milk-and-watery speeches, telling us why they lacked the courage to insist on at least some of their recommendations being implemented."

Mrs. Rolston insisted that the abolition of co-insurance and a plan to give relief from payment of hospital insurance premiums should be brought about at once.

She got in a plug for the Vic[illegible] she said could reduce the overcrowding of hospitals by providing home care for many patients.

PROUD OF LABEL

She said she had been referred to as "the housewife's friend," a label she was proud of. She stressed the importanse of the housewife: "She runs the homes of the nation; she raises the next generation; she could control the votes of the whole country if she wanted to; but she hasn't got a union."

Mrs. Rolston saw one way to make life easier for the inflation-conscious housewife: lower milk prices.

"Get rid of the milk board," she advised the government. "Get out from under. The milk board is a sample of masterly inactivity. It sits and talks and does nothing."

Make milk cheaper for cash-and-carry chain-store customers, she advised. And, if necessary, cut the butter-fat content, as Ontario has done. Anything to bring the price down.

Social Credit Holds Rally At Nanaimo

NANAIMO, March 5. Social Credit is on the march in British Columbia and will elect the next government in June if the people of British Columbia realize the movement offers the only means of preventing chaos which will result from the current high debt, high taxation policies of the Coalition, three prominent Social Credit speakers told a Nanaimo audience Wednesday night at a local party rally.

Meetings were held simultaneously in Ladysmith and Duncan.

The speakers were W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A.; W. N. Chant, former Alberta agriculture minister and Esquimalt candidate, and Ald. J. D. Smith of Victoria.

Mr. Bennett said Social Credit, if new to Nanaimo now, will not be so within two months; membership is increasing by leaps and bounds; there are now more paid-up Social Credit members than any other political party. By June, if the rate continues, there will be more than all other parties put together.

GOOD GOVERNMENT

Coalition, which was good government, went out with the advent of the Johnson-Anscomb-Wismer government, he said.

Borrowing policies of that government have the people of B.C. paying $2,500,000 in interest in New York. $28,000,000 more is being borrowed this year. The Hart government budget was $17,000,000, the present budget $186,000,000, added the M.L.A.

He said the post-war, prosperity-inflationary period was not the time to increase, but to reduce debt when prices for products were higher. The B.C. government is "Saturday night rich" and there will be a day of reckoning.

Mr. Smith said the government has lost touch with the people. Through co-insurance; rejection of the quarter-million-name petition; through the burden of sales tax, allowance of free monopolies, not free enterprise; shipment of iron ore to Japan for steel to be sold back here; inefficiency in handling natural resources. . . .

NET DEBT

He said the province has a net debt of $200,000,000. Alberta on the other hand has cut its debt from $169,000,000 when Social Credit took over to $97,000,000 and has $104,000,000 in the treasury to cover that, or a profit of $7,000,000.

In comparison B.C. has greater wealth of natural resources than Albefta. Since 1936 Alberta government has not borrowed a dollar and boasts the only proven successful government in Canada, Mr. Smith said.

Mr. Chant said goods are beginning to pile up in the greatest surplus ever known and consumers cannot buy them, yet Ottawa claims the people have too much buying power and increase taxes and credit restrictions.

More taxes mean price increases while business men, workers and farmers are struggling to make ends meet, he said.

Labor May Put Brent Murdoch On Blacklist

Operating Engineers (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) have indicated they may recommend that no Trades and Labor Congress unions support Alderman Brent Murdoch, police commissioner.

Engineers' spokesman Edward Callen, reporting to Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) said that in wage negotiations with the police commission, commissioner Murdoch said he was against any increase to civic employees.

Mayor Claude L. Harrison and W. Hamilton gave sympathetic hearings, he added.

The union seeks $40 a month to remain in line with the cost of living, Mr. Callen said. A further report on negotiations will be made to the council before the recommendation is submitted, he added.

Theft Trial At Nanaimo For Logger

NANAIMO, March 5. Stanley Allen Christensen was committed for trial Wednesday afternoon by Magistrate Lionel Beever-Potts on a charge of stealing $60 from Lawrence Valpy at the Alaska Pine camp at Holberg on Vancouver Island.

Bail, the magistrate informed Christensen, would be $1,000 if he wished it fixed. Accused said he couldn't raise this amount, but it was believed speedy trial before a County Court judge was being sought.

Original charge, theft of $125, was amended by police at request of the prosecutor, Const. W. M. Healy, to $107.90, but a charge in connection with $47.90, reportedly property of the camp community club, was not being proceeded with at once.

Accused elected for trial by higher court.

Border Ban On Horses Rouses Ire

CALGARY, March 5 (CP).—Hardy E. Salter, secretary of the Canadian Percheron Association, today expressed anger over the closing of provincial borders to the shipment of horses because of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Salter said that horses did not catch the disease and were not barred from the United States. He said just two days ago a horse was shipped from Calgary into the United States and all that was done was the disinfection of the horse's hooves.

Mr. Salter said the annual horse sale was scheduled for April 1 and 2 in Calgary and April 8 and 9 in Regina. Buyers from British Columbia, Nova Scotia and Quebec were the biggest outside bidders, "and these are the very provinces that have placed embargoes on horses."

Pipeline Bill Gets Second Reading

THE legislature yesterday gave second reading to a bill setting uniform valuation across British Columbia for taxation purposes on the pipeline to be started this spring by Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company.

The assessment will mean that Trans Mountain, using a 24-inch diameter pipe and carrying full capacity of 200,000 barrels a day, would pay an annual maximum tax of $377,000.

Maximum annual tax for a 30-inch diameter gas line, carrying 375,000,000 cubic [illegible] 000.

Trials Follow

CAIRO, March 5 (AP).—Informed sources said Tuesday night 130 persons will go on trial a week from today in connection with Cairo's anti-British riots of Jan. 26. Sixty-seven persons were killed in the riots and fire damage reached millions of dollars.

Reduced Down-Payments On N.H.A. Homes Urged

Lower down-payments on homes through the National Housing Act and more equitable distribution of defense contracts have been requested by Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.).

Council also will hear a report in two weeks from a special committee investigating interest rates through N.H.A.

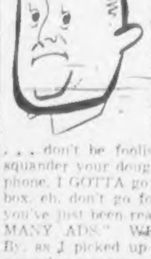
Resolutions pertaining to N.H.A. and contracts were passed at last night's meeting.

Building trades are suffering severely due to house construction cutbacks, and wage earners are unable to build homes because of stringent credit restrictions, the resolution preamble said. Inadequate housing is a major factor in social, domestic and juvenile problems, it was claimed.

The minister of finance will be asked to provide amendments allowing for lower down-payments through N.H.A.

The second resolution, asking a more equitable distribution of defense contracts, claimed these presently let do not amount to a fair proportion of all contracts in view of the industrial capacity available locally.

Tradesmen have suffered unemployment due to alterations in the economy for defense purposes and defense work has not taken up the slack, it was claimed.



N'ICE CUBES

A sweet young thing came into our store, "are your refrigerators," inquired "on this floor?" "No," I replied, "but we've a nice show, if you'll follow me, to the floor below." "Isn't it lovely, this gorgeous spring weather?" We came to the Frig's . . . all stacked together. "Now . . . THIS one," I prattled, "is 9 cu. feet, has a bigger place to store the meat. Has a flock of cold zones, plus inner tubes, which gives you oodles of frozen cubes. There's more space, too, the design of each shelf. No . . . it DOESN'T defrost itself. But it does ring a bell & carried on so, if you let the orange juice get too low. And this horn here, lets out a wham, if you put inside some garlic ham. "My," she exclaimed, "now isn't that nice. I'd no idea, such a device." That door, too, it's hinged on a spring these guys have thot of everything." "Hmmmmmm," she sed, it seems awfully nice, ah, er, could you tell me, please . . . WHAT IS THE PRICE?" "Pardon," I asked, "what's that you said," over her face a smile was spread. "The PRICE," she repeated, & her voice did climb, "I heard you," I sed, "the very first time. The PRICE, eh? . . . the question is fair, "have you," I smiled, "been everywhere??? She looked at me, a little dumbfound, "have you," I repeated . . . "been around?" "W-e-l-l . . . yes," she replied, "others I've seen, if THAT by chance, is what you mean?" "Then tell me, eh, if you don't mind, "what's the price of a similar kind??" "You MEAN," she replied, as I toyed with my socks, "if I DO, or DON'T . . . have an old ice box??" "W-e-l-l . . . just for the record, say that you DO, as you say . . . you've seen quite a few"; "NO," she said, "you tell ME first, tell me YOUR PRICE . . . for better or worst." Laughter echoed down in that room, "well have you," I asked, "got an old b r o o m??" "A BROOM??" she queried, laughing a fit, "what's THAT got . . . to do with it??" "Let's be serious . . . what do you say, you want to know HOW MUCH to pay??" "YES," she hooted, with me it's no dice, YOU gotta tell ME . . . WHAT'S YOUR PRICE???" I looked in her eye, I said quite slow, "Lovely Lady . . . I do not know. There IS a List Price, if you'd like to know that, but we no longer know . . . just where we are at. Why buy a Frig., is there REALLY a need, why not shoot your dough, say a new coat of Tweed?? I wouldn't buy a Frig. if I were you, when an old orange box, out the window will do. We've only three months of very warm weather," & so we talked, & laughed together. "P-l-e-e-z tell me," she implored, "before I go," "HONESTLY sweetheart . . . I DO NOT KNOW. For something else, wouldn't you settle, this washer, say, in gleaming metal?? Look at the plastic agigator," "NO," she stamped, a refrigerator." "Now . . . don't be foolish . . . don't squander your dough, there's my phone, I GOTTA go; that orange-box, eh, don't go for these fads, you've just been readin' . . . TOO MANY ADS." WE waved By-By, as I picked up the phone, I paused a moment . . . then let out a groan. The man shouted louder, repeated it twice . . . "ARE YOU DEAF? . . . A REFRIGERATOR . . . Culbertson on Bridge - - -

(Copyright 1952, by Ely Culbertson)

It is undeniable that luck plays a part in contract bridge, just as in other card games, but close analysis often reveals that a result which was termed merely lucky for one side or the other, could have been reversed by keener play. The following deal was a case of this sort:

North, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ A J 9 5
♦ A K J
♣ A 7

WEST
♠ 6
♥ Q 10 8
♦ Q 9 7 4
♣ Q 8 6 5 2

EAST
♠ 7 5 2
♥ K 7 4
♦ 8 6 3
♣ 10 9 4 3

SOUTH
♠ 10 9 8 4 3
♥ 6 3 2
♦ 10 5 2
♣ K J

North-South were using the system of "weak two-bids," in which only two clubs is forcing. North started out with this two-club call and, with South first making the negative response of two diamonds and later showing his spade suit, the partnership ended up on the highly optimistic note of a six-spade contract.

West had a difficult problem on the opening lead and, unfortunately for himself and partner, selected a low diamond. South would have had no chance on a club or a trump lead, but now he could take the vital diamond finesse without using his only entry, the club king, and when the finesse succeeded he had increased his chances enormously. He drew three rounds of trumps, cashed his other diamond tricks, then cashed the ace and king of clubs. Now with diamonds and clubs stripped from both hands, he led a heart. West put in the eight, and declarer called for dummy's nine. East, of course, took the trick but he was then securely hooked. Whether he led back a heart to dummy's tenace, or a club that would permit a ruff-and-discard, the slam was in the bag.

Beyond question, South had to be lucky in three respects: a favorable opening lead; the fact that the diamond queen lay right; and the further fact that East did not hold the heart ten along with his king. But all of this luck would not have sufficed if West had been alert enough to put up the heart queen when declarer led that suit toward dummy!

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

THE NUT PARTY

The March wind blew so hard that it was all Uncle Wiggily, Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, Johnnie and Billie, the squirrels, and Jingle and Jangle, the rabbit twins, could do to make their way into the hollow stump bungalow.

But at last they were all safely inside and Uncle Wiggily closed the door. The March Wind howled and yowled. It was disappointed because it could not blow away Uncle Wiggily and his friends. Of course the wind was only playing, but it was rather rough play.

"Now we are all safe," said Uncle Wiggily. "It is a good thing that my bungalow is made from a hollow stump, with its roots deep down in the ground. It cannot be blown away no matter how loud the March wind howls. We are all safe."

"All but Chief, the police dog, and his helper, Sergeant Bill," said Nurse Jane.

"What's that?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Are Chief and Bill blown away by the March wind?"

"I don't know," said Nurse Jane. "They were out near the snowdrift of Jingle and Jangle a little while ago. Don't you remember? Chief came to help you find out what was moving so mysteriously under the snow."

"That's right. So he did," said Uncle Wiggily. And the mystery turned out to be Jingle and Jangle. But when we ran away from the howling March wind I forgot all about Chief."

"Chief is all right," said Johnnie Bushytail.

"How do you know, my little squirrel boy?" Uncle Wiggily asked.

"Because I can see Chief and Sergeant Bill in their police dog squad car driving fast down the road," Johnnie answered. "Chief and Sergeant Bill are running away from the March wind."

"Oh, I must see that!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy as she crowded to the bungalow window to look out. She and Uncle Wiggily and the others saw Sergeant Bill at the steering wheel of the squad car. Chief was sitting beside his helper and Chief was turning the handle of the siren alarm so that it squealed: "WHEE-E-E-E-E-E!" almost as loud as the howling of the March wind.

"It's a race between Chief and the wind," said Buster the rabbit scout who had also hurried to the window.

"That's just what it is," said Bunty the orphan rabbit. "A race! I wonder who will win?"

"I think Chief will win this race," said Uncle Wiggily. "Chief is a smart police dog."

The March wind howled louder than before. It wanted to catch the police dog car and maybe turn it upside down for all I know. But Chief wasn't going to let that happen.

"Step on the gas, Bill!" barked Chief. Sergeant Bill stepped harder on the gas pedal. The auto squad car leaped ahead. The March wind picked up a cloud of snow and blew it at the car, but that did not frighten Chief. The cloud of snow was so thick that, for the moment, neither Uncle Wiggily nor any of his friends in the bungalow could see the police dog car. Then the cloud of snow swirled away. Chief's car could be seen racing away. The disappointed March wind now turned around, and Chief and Sergeant Bill were safe.

"Oh, look!" suddenly shouted Buster. "The wind has blown away all the snowdrift where Jingle and Jangle made their cave."

"That's right!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "The ground under the drift is now bare. Johnnie, you and Billie can go out now and dig up the nuts."

"That's what we'll do," chattered Billie. "We'll have a nut party." The squirrels dug up the hidden nuts. They cracked off the shells and ate the kernels. Johnnie and Billie gave some of the nut kernels to Nurse Jane who put them in some molasses candy and Uncle Wiggily ate some of that.

So you see, even a rabbit may sometimes eat nuts. The nut party was going along merrily when suddenly there was a knock on the door of the bungalow. I will tell you about it tomorrow, if the match doesn't try to build a fire from sticks of candy so they melt and run all over the floor.

Canadian Atomic Pile Unique, Says Chalk River Project Head

Canada has the only atomic pile of its kind in the world today, Dr. David A. Keys, head of the atomic energy project at Chalk River, Ont., said yesterday.

He was addressing members of the Canadian Club of Victoria at a noon luncheon meeting held in the Empress Hotel on "Canada and Atomic Energy."

He explained that the Canadian atom pile was the only one that used a heavy water reactor and that the British, French and Americans all used a graphite reactor.

Although Canada is probing into the industrial and medical uses atomic energy can be put to, research discoveries are made available to Great Britain and America.

"And I am quite sure they are using them for other purposes," Dr. Keys declared.

He explained that the instruments used by scientists at Chalk River were "a million times more sensitive" than others used in Canada.

If a spoonful of radioactive water is poured into a lake it can be detected by these instruments, the doctor declared.

He said the greatest benefits from atomic research are yet to come in the diagnostic field of medicine where experiments are now being carried out.

The doctor explained that by treating any medicine with radioactivity it can be traced through the body and its action on the disease noted.

Old Bomb Forces Evacuation of Homes

NUREMBERG, Germany, March 5 (Reuters).—Hundreds of persons evacuated their homes Tuesday for two hours and traffic was detoured when a wartime American 500-pound bomb was found during work on a bombed building. The bomb was safely defused.

Asphyxiation Ruled Cause of Couple's Death

Death by asphyxiation was the verdict handed down by a coroner's jury yesterday in connection with the death of a young man and woman who were found in a room at 1023 North Park last Sunday.

City police broke in a door to the room after receiving information that there was a strong odor of gas in the outside hall. They discovered Frank Fraser, 20, and Doreen Aikman, 21, of 1021 North Park, lying on the bed.

Const. L. F. Shandley said he answered the call and upon arrival kicked in the door which was [illegible] on the inside.

A burner in a gas stove was still burning and the window in the small room was closed, he stated.

In summing up the evidence, Coroner Dr. J. H. Moore said that "even if combustion was complete, the result of a gas stove burning in a room that was sealed tight could produce fumes that would cause death."

DEPLORABLE CONDITION

William Mowat, B.C. Electric employee who checked the stove after the mishap, said the burner that was on was in "deplorable" condition as the result of spilled food and that it would not completely light.

He also said there was no vent pipe hooked to the stove to allow fumes from the oven to escape.

"Otherwise the range was in fair condition," he said.

First hint that something was wrong in the room was discovered by Miss Iris Scott who lived in another apartment.

She said that she smelled gas when she walked down the hall to the bathroom about 9.30 a.m.

"I knocked on the door and didn't get a reply so I called Frank. I tried the door but it was locked. I knew something was wrong so I called the police," she stated.

Miss Scott also said the two young people had been drinking the night before.

"I knocked on the door the night before to borrow two spoons. Frank was very drunk but the young woman was not as drunk as he was," she declared.

The jury said death was accidental.
